FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

THE PACKAGE BILL PASSED.

While the Senate has been gravely discussing the great constitutional questions supposed to lask in Senator Wilson's original package bill, and while one Democratic Senator after another has been endeavoring to prove that the Supreme Court of the United States was wrong in its law when it said that Congress may be a declaratory act place 'original packages' within the purview of the police powers of the States, the 'original package' business has blossomed out in full flower, and the manufacture of 'test' cases has suddenly become a leading industry.

If the liquor interest had been better advised they would have been less precipitate in taking advantages of the original package decision, with Congress in session ready to nip their new hopes in the bud.

True,the exceeding leisurely pace with which the Senate has proceeded with the Wilson bill was calculated to make the liquor people believe that there was no earnest purpose to pass the bill; but all things, even constitutional arguments, have an end, and the Senate reached a vote on the Wilson bill yesterday and passed it by an overwhelming majority. Only ten dyed-in-the-wool Bourbon strict construction Democrats were found willing to vote against a proposition to give full effect to the police regulations of the States regarding the liquor traffic within their limits.

The bill as passed by the Senate prescribes in effect that imported packages of liquor shall be subject to the laws of a state as soon as they arrived within the State to the same extent as though the liquors had been produced within the State. This is plain common sense, and it ought not to require an act of Congress to make it law. There is no doubt that the House will promptly take up the bill and, without waiting to have a prize debate on constitutional issues, enact the bill into a law and put an end forever to the foolish attempts which are being made at many points to carry on a liquor traffic in defiance of State law within the temporary shelter afforded by the original package decision of the Federal Supreme Court,

The June disbursements for interest and dividends are estimated at $35,000,000, which is a large sum for an off month.

EX-ATTORNEY GENERAL GARLAND is said by his Washington friends to be practically a recluse. Politically, however, he is a refuse.

Let us have a sensible census! To that end tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth to the enumerators.

THE fire escape law is all right, but there is something wrong in the way it is enforced, or, rather, not enforced, in this town. All of which is a burning shame.

BISMARK will visit England during the Summer. This would seem to indicate that the ex-Chancellor and Mrs. Guelph had mutally agreed to let by-gones be by-gones.

SPEAKER REED will have the energetic approval of public opinion in closing liquor-selling in the House restaurant Such selling is contrary to law, and it ought to be stopped at both ends of the capitol.

In view of the fact that Stanley is to be married on the 12th of July it may be that the new member of the firm will do part of the lecturing after that date.

A COMPREHENSIVE PAPER.

Something of Interest to the Parent, the Pupil and the Tax Payer.

My Friends and Fellow Citizens:

Taking into consideration the tussle the mites of humanity attending the schools have had with mumps, measles, whooping cough and grippe, the school year now closing has accomplished all that could have been expected. The pupils enrolled numbered 752. The High School which started out in 1884 with 50 or 60 pupils now numbers 95 and will open next year with at least 100. The wisdom of the Board of Directors in establishing the school and raising the standard it has attained is fully demonstrated by the number of our youth who continually attend upon the school and are eager to secure all the advantages and privileges it affords. While a goodly number annually complete the course of study, many in at the beginning, fall out before the race is ended. Some of course, from circumstances that compel it; some, because their parents leave the town, and some, to use the language of the street, because they have not "sand" enough to carry them through; some, because their parents do not insist upon their continuing at school. They are not needed to support the family for they do not work, They simply stop because they want to, and the power behind them is too weak to compel their attendance upon school and they become the drone of society and the loafers of the community.

The present class, the largest that has ever yet graduated from our High school had thirty members when it entered the school four years ago. They are not all here, for the reasons already given. The class now entering the High school has forty members and it is hoped, parents and friends that you will do what you can to have them complete the full course of study in the school.

THE NEED OF PARENTS' HELP.

Parents, we need your help in all of our schools. We are always sure that the good pupils have good home training. They are taught to obey at home and they never undertake to resist the authority of the teacher. Help the pupils in your homes to be obedient and faithful scholars It will be better for them, better for you; they will make better men and women. When your attention is called to a case of truancy (they do occur) before you snub the teacher who calls your attention to the fact, it would be better if you would consider that they are looking after the interests and welfare of your child, and that you should heartily join in the efforts of the teachers to rescue him, before he shall go to ruin. Truancy in all cases can easily be broken up, if the parents will heartily help the teachers. We have not had much of this evil in our schools, but enough to warn you when it does appear to help us to stamp it out and save the pupil. Visit the schools; consult with the teachers; tell them, if they do not understand, or already know, the peculiarities of your child, that they may the better discern how to awaken the hidden treasures of his mind. Your earnest co-operation in all school work will result only in good to your child.

TEACHERS.

With the close of this term, by reason of the fact that he has been called to a higher station, Prof. D. O. Etters severs his connection with the schools as a teacher. For six years he has been the Principal of the High School. As a teacher, he has been all that any Board of Directors could ask or any community demand. "Calm, cafeful and cautious he has maintained the right conduct, without vexing or offending by harsh and imperious rules." The subject of the the lessons to be taught each day was thoroughly studied before he entered the school-room. He was no stickler for the text book; much more than it contained was daily taught to his classes. In this respect, he was an aggressive and progressive teacher. The lessons were more thoroughly studied and prepared by him than by any pupil in the school. Understanding thoroughly what was to be taught, he presented it in such a way that it was easily comprehended and thoroughly understood by his pupils. While we lose a teacher whose place will be hard to fill, we feel sure the people of the county will never regret that he has been called to the office of Superintendent of the public Schools of the County.

Miss Lizzie Shortlidge who has been a teacher in our schools for eight years will also,with the close of this year,sever her connection with the schools. It is with much regret that I make this statement, and profound sympathy, because of the circumstances which have led, almost compelled her, to take this step. She was able, capable and thorough in all her work in the school room. Beginning in one of the lower graded schools, by constant study and earnest work, she became the teacher upon whom you could rely to fill any position, however laborious or responsible, in which she might be placed. The pupils of the Senior Grammar School are not by any means easily controlled. The skill and succes with which she controlled and secured the love, and devotion of her pupils was that of a master hand. She possessed the rare faculty of teaching her pupils to think, to observe, and notice The comfort and happiness of her pupils in the school room was with her a great consideration and was carefully looked after by her and always at the right time. It gives me pleasure, speaking for the Board, to be able to thus speak of the teachers who must, of necessity, leave our schools.

Under the wise and judicious supervision of our Principal, the teachers of the schools are doing very good work and are becoming better prepared for the work year by year. "Most of the teachers enter upon the work at too early an age to have had any extended reading or careful study, beyond the requirements of the class room." Some teachers seem to think that a certificate signed and secured is all the preparation they need. This is a great mistake. "Narrow indeed must be the the study, the thought, the heart and instruction of him who goes not beyond the dry beaten path of text book." "Text books are but the guide posts pointing the way, but giving little knowledge of the wood, the field and the country through which he passes. Little has the teacher of Grammar, of language, who, planting him or herself upon the text, is not well read in the works of those who are skillful in its use, familiar with its nice expression, its delicate shading of thought and its clear and distinct utterance."

We have been led to make these remarks for the encouragement of our teachers. For a number of years, the Board has regularly re-elected the teachers engaged the previous year. They have done so, because they believed it to be better than to annually have new teachers. By this means, teachers come to better understand their pupils, to know their habits, their capacity and their natures. We believe we thus obtain better results than could otherwise be secured. It is not because we lack applications for schools that this is done; annually we are beset with a large number of applicants. Up to this time for the vacancies that will occur, we have applications from Maine to Kansas. Under such circumstances, when teachers are retained from year to year they should understand the necessity of using every opportunity of preparing themselves for their work by following a regular and systematic course of study, and devoting all their time out of the school room to the preparation for more efficient work in the school room. After they have taught a year or two, one term at least should be spent at some one of the many schools of methods which are under the control of the best educators and instructors in this country. "Every day should add something new to the outfit of the teachers. From the first day of the Primary grade to the last of the High school the teacher who would succeed, cannot neglect special preparation for the day's work. All lessons should be so well prepared that they can be taught without the text book in the hand of the teacher." In the character and conduct of the teacher lies the strength of the schools.

THE NEEDS OF THE DISTRICT.

Notwithstanding the fact that it is only three years since we completed and began the use of the new school building, it will be but a year or two more, until more school room will be needed. How it shall be obtained, is the unsolved problem that confronts the Board. Long before we shall be able to provide it, room will be required to accommodate the rapidly increasing population of our District. We know what ought to be done. The stone building which, owing to its small rooms and inferior internal arrangements, never has been and cannot be made a good school house, should be torn down and, in its stead, there should be erected, in the middle of the lot, a good substantial brick building, containing, at least, twelve good school rooms, a large room for the High school, a large hall to be used as an Assembly room, with rooms for teachers, a Director's room and a room for a library. Such a building with the Brick building we now have would accommodate the school population for more than a quarter of a century.

Every year thousands are bequeathed by generous—minded, noble-hearted wealthy men and women of the country to the founding and maintaining of higher institutions of learning for the benefit of the few. Carnegie is praised for what he has done and may do for mankind by constructing buildings and establishing libraries costing hundreds of thousands of dollars. These institutions, with all their privileges, reach but a few; "but a drop in the bucket" as compared with the great multitude that needs educational advantages. They are intended to help men whose tastes and habits in life are formed. All this is very good; of it, we are not complaining. We hope the institutions thus established, whether schools or libraries, shall accomplish great good, even beyond the expectations of their founders; but how much more noble and potent would be the bequest or gift that erects and fully equips a building such as we have mentioned for public school purposes in a town like this. It would aid and benefit all, reach the poor and neglected and add to the permanent enlargement and elevation of the community. The great beauty of such a gift would be that it would reach those whom it was intended to help in their childhood and youth, before permanent habits are formed; and its influence and tendencies would all be for good. Back of such a gift would stand the school district, ever ready to preserve, protect and see that it accomplished the purposes for which it was intended. What a glorious monument such a building would be to the memory of any man who would erect it. From it would come a continual stream of young men and women who would honor, bless and revere his memory and truly by it "he being dead, yet speaketh."

To the Class:

My young friends:

It is difficult to determine exactly what ought to be said to you. You are old enough and have had instruction enough to know how you should conduct yourselves in order to be successful in life. With young people, however, an occasian like this marks a period in life of great interest and progress, and affords the opportunity for so much congratulation, that it is fitting that the last act which completes your course through the school, should be accompanied with words of cheer, suggestion and advice.

The purpose of all education is to discipline the mind, develop the mental faculties, enlarge the heart, and enoble the soul. A line of instruction that does not in a great measure accomplish this end must of necessity be more or less of a failure. The object of pursuing a course of study in any school is to prepare young men and women to better help themselves, when the time comes in which they must take up, each for him or herself, the battle of life. The time spent in any school is of but little consequence if it does not help you in life, make all your years better, aid you to be a more useful citizen, to exert a wider influence for good in the community in which you live and perforce of the good it has wrought in your minds and hearts assist you to live for the good of mankind and the glory of God.

There is no telling what position an honest, industrious, intelligent and studious young man or woman may under God attain. On occasions of this kind it is customary to refer to such men as Lincoln, Johnson, Clay and Jackson; to such women as Miss Alcott, Mrs. Stowe and other distinguished men and women to excite your ambition and if possible to incite in you to all the power you have to become great and good. Their characters are worthy of imitation. They did much for their country, much for mankind and made volumes of history. From this well beaten path I want to turn aside for a moment. Take the successful men and women in the community in which we live, examine if you please their early lives, the struggles through which they have passed, the deprivations, self-denials and hardships they suffered to obtain what education they could, and you will find you are surrounded by men and women whose whole lives are worthy of emulation.

I have already referred to Professor Etters and his work as a teacher. Being his pupils and being under his instruction for four years, you ought to know his real worth and solid character. Have you for a moment considered the poverty he endured? the tenacity with which he held to his purpose to obtain an education? With neither money to spend upon, nor friends to aid him, working to pay his way he obtained a complete collegiate education. He fitted himself to do something. When he first became the principal of the school from which you come, it was at a small salary. He demonstrated his fitness for the place, we paid him more. He continued by industry and perseverance to show his capabilities and the people have called him to a very honorable and responsible position.

It is these living examples of what perseverance and industry, energy and will can accomplish, that should excite and stimulate in you a holy desire to continue your studies and do what you can in the day and generation in which you live, to shine as diamonds set upon the great mass of humanity. With this on behalf of the board I present you with the certificate of scholar ship setting forth the full course of study you have completed.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

Address of Mrs. J. P. Harris, County President, Delivered Before the Last County Convention in Bellefonte.

Some years ago when the great Webster made light of the abolition movement as the work of a few women and clergyman, Calhoun replied that the danger lay in that very fact; that women were the agitators. To-day a far greater and widespread evil than ever slavery meant to the African, a bondage which recognizes no color line, nor division of Mason and Dixon to protect it, an evil which annually numbers its victims by tens of thousands, is threatened, and the death knell of the liquor traffic is being rung from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Who is doing it? The agitators, the women, who, to-day, are more feared by the liquor sellers than even the "Prince of Darkness" himself. He never troubles them; they are doing his work well, faithfully, and he can safely trust them. The magic letters, W. C. T. U., have been aptly interpreted, women continually trouble us, "and not only have the dear ladies of Bellefonte been accused of painting green the beautiful bronze angel which continually refreshes both man and beast, which was presented to the City Fathers by W. C. T. U., and hence is no longer theirs to adorn, but recently when a number of young gentlemen applied to the Court for a charter to open a club room, the Court, seeing fit to deny it, one of our young editors, in criticising the action of the Court, politely spoke of us as "the old women," and gave us credit for far more influence with the Court than we ever dreamed we possessed. However, these little incidents, trivial in themselves, go to prove that the man of to-day differs but little from the first man—Adam—in one respect: "The woman whom thou gavest me," as of old, must bear the censure.

We have this year merged our County Convention into "A School of methods." We cannot take up all the different departments of work, but we will discuss those most needed in our own county. We most earnestly ask you to join in these discussions. That we are here to help, as well as be helped, should be the feeling of each member. None of us feel that in the past year we have done what we could. We did faithful work for the Amendment, and doubtless the large majority the county gave in its favor was due to our previous years of work, as well as during the campaign; but "Ye did run well, who hath hindered you," might be justly said of us since. The discouragement of the defeat of June 18th, followed by the—we cannot but feel—uncalled for withdrawal of some of our faithful workers, to form a new organization in the State, have been hard to rally from; but the loyal reponses from every Union in our county are to-day a great encouragement, and old Centre presents an unbroken front in the ranks of the W C T U. We thank our Heavenly Father that He has preserved this peace and harmony among our members; and though we may not all see with one eye, let us all "Strive with an eye single to God's glory."

Let me urge upon you a more thorough consecration and a more determined effort to increase our membership. We do not doubt that the Lord has laid the work upon us, nor that as He hath led in the past, so He will continue to lead. We believe that out of the defeats, and apparently adverse decisions of higher and lower courts, He is overruling all to bring about His own plans. The recent decisions of the National Supreme Court, in the Kansas liquor case, namely; that any State has a right to ship liquor into a Prohibition State without molestation, or seizure, but proves that Prohibition, to be effective, must be made a National issue. Mr. Lincoln said of slavery that "the public mind must rest in the belief that it is in the process of extinction." So we believe that all these current events are God's answers to the cries of His people.

Last year our work suffered from lack of system. This year let me urge upon officers and superintendents of local Unions, when appointed, to at once communicate with County officers and superintendents in regard to their work, thereby "stirring up the pure minds" of County superintendents and increasing their diligence in the work. Our State has made scientific temperance instruction the work of the year. Let every Union see that a capable, intelligent woman, whose heart is in the work, fills the office of superintendent, and those who are neither officers nor superintendents should be the Aaron's and Hur's, holding up the hands of the workers, both with words of encouragement and liberal pocket books. We are so happy ourselves in having a large-hearted Mrs. Aaron as one of our members, that if we tell it, it may be suggestive to others. A few days ago our treasurer received a check from this generous member for $30, not her first either for last year she gave us $20, and has for several years given us these pleasant surprises, never binding the gift with any suggestions or limitations; thus showing her confidence in the honesty and faithfulness of our efficient treasurer. No good cause can be carried on successfully unless those who are interested learn to give towards it. Money is needed; and money should be supplied to carry on the Juvenile and Sunday school work in every local Union. Papers, cards, prizes for essays on alcohol, tobacco and kindred topics, should be in the hands of our workers to attract and educate the children. Literature should be scattered freely and good temperance papers be in the homes of our ministers, school superintendents and day-school teachers.

Dear sisters do not forget the little bow of white ribbon is itself an educator; keep it for every day use, not pinned on the dress or coat alone that you wear to the meeting. Remember it means, "I am pledged to do all in my power to promote the cause of temperance." Let it be so much a part of you that when your busy hands are peacefully folded, loving hands will pin the little bow in its place, for you would not look like mother or sister without it.

I close with the advice of our beloved Frances Willard, "Never speak a discouraging word of the work or the workers' And whate'er thou findest to do, do that thy best."

"Think not of self, nor what will be thy gain;
Relinquish not one whit of toil, whatever be thy pain."

OREGON will have a general State election this week. Not only will State officers be chosen, but the first member of the next Congress will be elected, and a Legislature which will name a United States Senator. Oregon, over which there used to be considerable doubt, has grown to a be pretty reliable Republican State recently. It gave Garfield 765 majority in 1880, Blaine 2256 in 1884 and Harrison, 6759 in 1888. Two years ago it elected a Republican Congressman by 7406 majority and the man then elected is a candidate this year.

SOBRIETY, quiet and reflection on the memories of the heroic past are qualities becoming to every patriotic observer of Decoration day. The day is dedicated to Peace and to those who died to preserve it. Let us keep it sacred.

Our Story Teller.

ALL IS FAIR IN LOVE.

BY AMY RANDOLPH,

Click, click, the sharp needles of the December snowstorm were rattling against the casements of old Mrs. Maple's farmhouse; patter, patter, the last dead leaves of the old sycamore tree drifted down upon the door-stone.

It was an old, old house, and Mrs. Maple was an old, old woman. But you will sometimes find tufts of snowy blossoms bursting from age-lichened apple-trees; and sprays of greenery on the boughs of centry-old oak-trees, and so it happened that Minny Maple, the ancient crone's great-granddaughter, was the bud and blossom of her worn-out life.

Old Mrs. Maple owned house and land, and had money out at interest; but she was a shrewd old lady, and liked to keep her affairs in her own hands. And pretty Minny, albeit an heiress in prospective, taught the district school and took care of the farm dairy out of hours.

'It won't hurt her to work for her living if she is to be rich one of these days,' said Mrs. Maple. 'I worked when I was a girl.'

And upon this dreary December night Mrs. Maple's swift knitting needles gleamed like steely lightning in the firelight; and Minny sat on a low chair beside her, mending table-cloths, while ever and anon a big drop would plash down upon the darned spots like a glistening globule of dew.

'But, grandmother, why?' burst out Minny at last, with blue eyes lifted up like forget-me-nots drenched in rain, to the old lady's parchment-like face.

'Because I say so, said old Mrs Maple. And the fire crackled, and the snow clicked softly against the window panes, and the kitting-needles made zigzags of light as they flew back and forth.

'But you say, yourself, grandmother, that he's a good young man,' pleaded Minny.

Old Mrs. Maple nodded.

'Without a bad habit in the world!

And again old Mrs Maple nodded like a Chinese mandarin in a collection of curiosities.

'And forehanded with his farm?'

For the third time Mrs. Maple nodded.

'Then, grandmother, why won't you consent to our marriage?' urged the girl.

'Child,' said Mrs Maple, turning her spectacle glasses full upon Minny's sweet, flower-like, 'I've told you why, half a hundred times! It's because your great-grandfather Maple and his great-grandfather were mortal enemies. Because your grandfather's last words upon his death-bed were: 'I leave my soul to Heaven, my money to my dear wife, and my everlasting enmity to Job Crofton!'

'But, grandmother,' said Minny, with a shudded, 'that was very wicked! And surely, surely, the shadow of a tombstone should be a reconciliation?'

Old Mrs Maple shook her white head.

'Your grandfather was a very vindictive man, Minny,' said she; 'I never disobeyed him living, and I never will disobey him dead!'

'But, grandmother,' coaxed Minny, with her fresh cheek against the old lady's hand, 'he wouldn't know it. How could he?'

'Child, child, your grandfather Maple knew everything," said the old lady, a sudden superstitious glance over her left shoulder, as something seemed to rustle at the casement. 'And I do believe his ghost would haunt me ever after if I didn't give good heed to his last words. No, no; Gilbert Crofton can never be your husband, and you may as well give up the idea first as last.'

And Minny Maple cried herself to sleep that night.

'For I never,' never can marry him Without grandmother Maple's consent, she sobbed. 'I'll stay single for his sake until the day of my death; but I never can disobey the kind old soul who has taken a mother's place to me and brought me up from a baby."

But the next thing there was an apple bee at Deacon Dangerfields, and Minny Maple was there. Gilbert Crofton did not make his appearance until late.

'Gilbert,' said the little fiancee, who sat reproachfully amid a crimson avalanche of apples, 'what makes you so late?'

'I've been busy,' said Gilbert. 'But never mind so long as I'm in time for the Virginia reel."

And they walked home tohgether through the snow drifts, talking happily of what might be if only Grandmother Maple's adamantiue heart could be softened.

But, late though it was, with the old clock on the stroke of one, there was a light shining redly from the keeping-room windows, and, through the uncurtained casement, they could see grandmother Maple marching up and down the room like a sentinel on duty, her high-heeled boots tapping on the floor, her fingers instinctively wandering around and around the inside of her empty snuff box.

Minny hurried into the room.

'Why, grandmother," cried she, 'whatever is the matter? Here are the logs all burned down to white ashes and the candlewick guttering, and you in such a flutter as never was What has happened, grandmother?"

Mrs. Maple turned her keen blue eyes upon her great-granddaughter with an expression like that of a sleep-walker.

'Minny, come in,' said she 'And shut that door. Is that you, Gilbert Crofton, the great grandson of Job? Come yo in also. Children,' with her old hands shaking as if palsy-stricken, 'I've seen a ghost?'

'Impossible?' Cried Gilbert Crofton.

'Dear grandmother, you must have been dreaming," soothed Minny, creeping up to her side and drawing her down into the old arm-chair beside the hearth.

'Dreaming!' shrieked the old woman.

'I was as wide awake as I am at this moment. I had been over to see Mrs, Muir's sick child, and it was close to ten o'clock when I got back. And the minute I crossed the threshold, I had that queer feeling of some one being in the road creep all over me. And there, sure enough, in the chair opposite, where he used to sit thirty good years ago, was your great-grandfather Maple, with his old cue- wig and his suit of butternut brown, and the very green spectacles he used to wear for his weak eyes. And he took his pipe out of his mouth and looked at me just as your grandfather Maple has looked at me a thousand, thousand times. And says I: 'Reuben, is that you? And says he; 'Yes, Lois, it is.' And says I: 'Oh, Reuben, what brings you back to this world?' And says he: 'To-wipe out the stains of a wicked world.' And says I: 'Are you happy, Reuben?' And says he: 'Yes, and that's the reason I want others to be.' And then I began to tremble all over, and says I: 'Is it anything I can do Reuben?' And says he: 'There's no more offending nor giving offense in the other world, Lois, and Job Crofton's soul and mine are at variance no longer.' Says he: 'Let there be peace, Lois, and let the young man Gilbert be your grandchild's husband.' And then he knocked the bowl of his pipe on the edge of the andiron, as I've seen him do it so often; and he got up, and he walked out of the room, just for all the world like a living creature. I've often heard that ghosts can go through a key-hole, but your grandfather Maple's ghost opened the door, and forgot to shut it after him into the bargain, So, when I roused up enough to know what was going on around me, the floor was covered with snow, that had drifted in, and the candle was blown out.

'Oh, grandmother! do you think this was real?' cried Minny, with startled eyes.

'Didn't I see it with my own eyes, and hear it with my own ears?' demaned old Mrs. Maple. 'It's your grandfather's ghost! And I might have known that if he wanted to appear, he could, for he had obstinacy enough for anything, rest his soul! You may marry Gilbert Crofton if you want to, to-morrow, Minny! And perhaps your grandfather's ghost will be easy then!'

So the young people were happily married, and Gilbert came to live at the farm, and managed all the old lady's affairs for her. And she lived to be a hundred years old, before she closed those keen, blue eye of hers upon the matters of this mortal world.

But one day, in turning over the relics of the roomy, old garret, Minny came across a red chest, clamped with brass, and faintly odorous of dried lavender and rose leaves. She opened it.

'Oh, Gilbert, look here! cried she, 'my great-grandfather's best suit laid up in camphor gum and sweet herbs! Why do you suppose grandmether Maple has kept it?'

'I don't know, I am sure,' said Gilbert, with a mischievous twinkle in his eyes. 'Perhaps for the younger generations to masquerade in!'

Minny sprang to her feet, a sudden light seemed to illumine her whole face:

'Gilbert!' cried she, 'did you—'

'No matter,' said Gilbert laughing 'shut up the box, Minny, your grandfather's ghost will never haunt the house again.'

And it never did.

PROTECTION DEMANDED

British Subjects in Newfoundland Enter a Vigorous Protest

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Because, as They Allege, They Are Not Protected Against French Encroachment, and Refuse to Pay Any Further Import Duties.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 31.—A special from Bay St. George says that the commander of the French war ship Indre, now lying in the roadstead of Bay St. George, ordered the inhabitants of the shore to take up their herring nets. The people refused. The French officers then came armed and took up the nets, destroying some of them. The people applied to the local magistrate, established by the St. Johns government on the coast, for protection. He informed them that he was powerless to lend them any assistance.

Received No Protection.

There is no English war ship in the harbor. The Pelican came and remained a day, but did nothing to protect the British subjects. The people then met and passed, amid great enthusiasm, strong resolutions declaring their determination to refuse to pay any further duties to St. Johns until such time as they receive protection in their industries.

The herring fishery is one of the principal means of livelihood of the people, and if prevented from prosecuting that occupation it means complete ruin to them.

The meeting was attended by the principal merchants of the place and clergymen of different denominations, and most determined speeches were made. The resolutions were telegraphed to the governor of St. Johns, and the Emerald has been ordered to proceed to the scene.

Mr. Bowers' Statement.

BOSTON, May 31.—The Hon. P. E. Bowers, editor of The St. Johns Daily Colonist, and delegate of the province to explain the situation to the various boards of trade throughout the provinces, has come to Boston to stir up public opinion in this country as to the wrongs of the Newfoundlanders. In an interview he says:

The troubles have arisen from the claims of the French to construct apparatus and carry on the lobster fisheries on a line of coast from Cape St. John to Cape Ray, although they are wholly unwarranted by the treaty of Utrecht, upon which they rely. The Newfoundlanders look upon this as an encroachment on their territory. Moreover, the French refuse to become amenable to any law for the regulation of the fisheries passed by the local legislature. The modus vivendi which England has given them within a year, temporarily authorizing them to conduct these lobster fisheries, was given without the knowledge of the province, and, in fact, was not known there until March last.

Impairing Local Enterprise.

A delegation from the Newfoundland government was promptly sent out to present the case to the officials and boards of trade throughout the provinces. A similar delegation was sent to England to place the case before the English people, with the hope that an intense public opinion would be aroused, so that the British government would not only set aside the present pretensions of the French, but cause the complete relinquishment of their claims on the so called French shore of Newfoundland. The exercise of those claims is causing the removal of the nets and fishing vessels of the Newfoundlanders, and impairing local enterprise to such an extent that the success of the railroad, which has been projected, has been menaced. As a consequence, also the bone and sinew of the province is turned elsewhere.

Sympathy and Support.

Mr. Bowers said that their delegation has met with very decided sympathy and support wherever their claims were presented, and measures have been taken at Ottawa toward urging their rights before the colonial office. As to the rumored feeling in the province toward annexation to the United States, Mr. Bowers said that this does not exist to any appreciable extent, and as far as can be seen at present the people are disposed to work out their rightful claims against the French through the intervention of the British government.

NOT CAPTURED YET.

The Trenton Convicts Thus Far Elude Officers of the Law.

TRENTON, N. J., May 31.—The two negro convicts who escaped from the state prison have not been caught. A corps of deputy keepers, with the prison bloodhounds, are out in pursuit of them, and Keeper Patterson has hopes that they may soon be recaptured.

The only clew obtained thus far is that two men answering to the description of the convicts were seen shortly before 12 o'clock Wednesday night going through the main streets of Bordentown. They were on different sides of the street and one was observed to have on a light over coat and the other a dark one. This tallies with the description of the men.

A reward of $200 has been offered by the prison authorities for the recapture of the runaways. Capt. Parker, whom the desperadoes slugged, bound and gagged, is somewhat improved, but is still in a dazed condition. He is about 60 years of age and of slender frame.

Capt. Parker was robbed of $68. He had notes in his pocket to the value of about $700, but they were not taken, nor did the thieves carry away the captain's handsome gold watch.

Keeper Patterson says that it was a clever plot. The men chose the only half hour in the day when the doorkeeper is alone. He would never have suspected Thomas of such a design. He was regarded as an exemplary convict.

The Board of Pardons Refused.

HELENA, Mon., May 31.—Governor Toole advised the board of pardons to refuse to pardon John A. Rowan, a member of a wealthy and influential family of Quebec. In 1888 while attempting to kill another man Rowan murdered Joseph Fussiere, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Rowan made application to the president, and Sir John Macdonald, the Canadian premier, had the British minister at Washington interest Secretary Blaine. Mr. Blaine wrote to the board asking as a matter of international courtesy that the pardon be granted, but the request was refused.

THOSE MISSING SECURITIES.

They Have Not Yet Been Traced—May Have Been Rehypothecated.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—The wreckers of the Bank of America and the American Life Insurance company may yet be jailed. Much of the collateral on which loans were made cannot be found. Instead of the makers of the notes being indebted to the bank the institution is actually indebted in a sum equal to the difference between the amount of their loans and the value of the collateral hypothecated. Appraiser Freeman when asked what had become of the missing securities replied that nothing was yet known about their disposal. He was sure though that they had been used to obtain money loans. In this case the officials who had a hand in taking them out of the bank can be held for embezzlement.

No actual traces of the missing securities have been found. Assignee Smith feels that if the bank officials have rehypothecated them he will be obliged to take some positive action before he gets through with his work. Mr. Smith says that $100,000 has been paid out to the depositors, and he thinks that this sum included some of the money realized by the hypothecators. According to the appraiser's report the bank's bill receivable, amounting to $595,045.35, pledged partly to the Bank of the Republic and secured by collateral, are of "unknown value."

The policy holders of the insurance company stated through counsel in the proceedings before Judge Simonton at Harrisburg that its insolvency was due to the conversion of assets of $900,000 and the substitution in their place of utterly worthless assets. Senator John J. McFarlane, president of the American Life Insurance company and vice president of the Bank of America, is still missing.

President Pfeiffer, of the Bank of America, and Manager Pancoast, of the Columbus avenue branch, were both indicted Thursday for receiving money from depositors when they knew the bank was insolvent.

Rioting Students.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 31.—A riot occurred here early in the morning between members of the senior and junior class in the State university. Some fifteen or twenty seniors had hired a wagon and band and were driving about the city when attacked by the juniors. A young man named Hall was shot in the thigh. James Simpson was struck on the head and is now in a critical condition. Twenty persons were more or less injured by clubs and stones. The police finally made a charge on the mob, breaking it up and arresting many of the students. Young Simpson was unconscious for several hours, and will probably die. Hall, should he recover, will be crippled for life.

Injured by a Runaway Horse.

BROCKPORT, N. Y., May 31.—A team owned and driven by Amos Coates was left standing untied in front of Henriech's hotel, when the horses became frightened and ran as the 6:15 p. m. train was pulling into the station. The team ran into a crowd of people who were waiting for the train and many of them were knocked down, five persons being badly injured. The names of those hurt are Miss Lizzie Burdett, of Spencerport, badly cut about the face and body, serious; her sister Grace, badly bruised; Mrs. Robert Hull, of Brockport, badly cut about the thigh and hips; and two others less seriously hurt.

Difficulties in the Way of Ballot Reform.

ALBANY, May 31.—Deputy Secretary of State Benedict, who was United States public printer, has found some serious difficulties in carrying out the new ballot reform law. He says the law requires the numbering of all ballots as they are being printed, and not by a numbering machine. If a ballot is spoiled in printing it must be duplicated or the record will not be complete. Mr. Benedict says that there are not five presses in the state that can do this, especially in the five days required by the law. Should the ballots be destroyed by fire after they are in the clerk's office the town would be disfranchised.

The Luther Ministerium.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., May 31.—The Luther Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states convened here Thursday in annual session. The present officers were elected as follows: Dr. Krotel, of New York, president; J. M. Anspech, of Easton, secretary; Rev. J. K. Platt, of Philadelphia, treasurer. The report of the treasurer showed that the receipts during the year were $59,398; disbursements, $51,206. The 400 churches, with 120,000 communicants under the synod, are reported to be in a prosperous condition.

They Want the Lottery.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 31.—A committee from Point Coupe with a petition signed by 650 of the 752 white voters of the parish presented the same to their representatives and urged them to vote in favor of submitting the lottery question to the people, and upon their refusing to comply the committee requested them to resign. Mr. Kenney, another anti-lottery leader, received a petition signed by a majority of his white constituents urging him to favor submitting the lottery question to the people.

Polish Jews Left Lamenting.

NEW YORK, May 31.—An exchange broker named Wolff, at 47 Broadway, has disappeared, and about 100 Polish Jews allege that he has taken $20,000 belonging to them which they intrusted to him for the purpose of securing passages to America for their families.

Woman's Board of Missions.

BOSTON, May 31.—The Woman's Board of missions had a semi-annual meeting Thursday, at which interesting experiences were given by returned missionaries. The Moral Reform association also held its annual meeting. Mrs. O. M. Rowe gave an outline of the work of the clubs in various parts of the country among working girls. These officers were chosen: President, Dr. S. Merritt; recording secretary, Mrs. J. A. Nichols; corresponding secretary, Miss Perry; treasurer, Julia A. Sprague; auditor Mrs. S. Rand, and a board of directors.

Dragged from Their Beds and Flogged.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 31.—Four young women belonging to the best families in Six Mile, a village of Bibb county, were walking along the street there a few days ago when they met three negro women named Maudy Johnson, Tilly Belcher and Dora Carter, who would not yield the sidewalk. They ran against the young ladies, pushing them in the gutter and addressing insulting language to them. Masked White men Thursday night went to the negro women's residences, dragged them from their beds and flogged them with lashes. Six Miles is said to be stirred up over the affair, and it is alleged that the negroes are making threats of violence and arming.

The Democrats Say They Will Make the Republicans Responsible.

FOR TARIFF LEGISLATION.

A Novelty for the World's Fair—It Is Proposed to Have a Complete Japanese Village, Including Houses, Families, Etc., on Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Under the leadership of Mr. Carlisle the Democrats of the senate assert that they will studiously avoid anything which will give the Republicans excuse for delay in the consideration of the tariff bill. They say they are determined that the majority shall have every opportunity to go on with their own work after their own fashion, and that with them shall lie all the responsibility. They avow they are perfectly willing that the Republicans shall hang themselves, and they are not going to be stingy about giving them rope.

The prospects of tariff legislation of some sort are greatly improved by the action of the democrats in supporting Messrs. Allison and Aldrich in their motion to get the subject back into the hands of the subcommittee. The Iowa and the Rhode Island senators will now, in all probability, have their substitute reported to the senate and it will doubtless pass in some shape. But that, of course, will not be legislation; conferences between the two houses must be had, and there is no telling what the result will be.

A Little Scheme.

It is said that there is a little scheme on foot to defeat the more moderate tariff men in the end and to get the McKinley bill through the conference by subterfuge. This scheme is, in case the proposed moderate substitute for the McKinley bill passes the senate, to have Messrs. Morrill and Sherman appointed as conferees on the part of the senate to meet the conferees on the part of the house and settle differences.

The very plausible reason might be given for the selection of Morrill and Sherman for this work that they are the two first men on the committee. The technical propriety of their selection could not be disputed, but their selection would almost certainly, it is said, lead to the defeat in conference of the senate proposition.

It would count for little for Mr. Allison to get his substitute through the senate if Mr. Sherman had to decide its fate in conference.

Sherman's vote alone, if he were appointed on such a conference committee, would be enough to deliver the senate over to the house in this matter. To maintain their position on the question, even if they get a substitute through the senate by a goodly majority, Messrs. Allison and Aldrich must be on the conference committee. They may not be able to arrange this with the vice president, it is said.

A Novelty for the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Gustavius Goward, formerly secretary of the United States legation at Tokio, Japan, left Washington Monday with credentials from the state department on a singular mission. Mr. Goward has been designated as a special commissioner to proceed to Japan and arrange for a Japanese exhibit at the Chicago fair. He is instructed to arrange for the exhibition of a complete Japanese village, including houses, families, all necessary domestic utensils, tools and workmen to display the ordinary trades and occupations in Japan.

The Oswego National Bank Resumes.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 4.—Business was resumed yesterday morning at the Oswego National bank. There was no run on the institution or nothing approaching a run. In fact, only a few thousand dollars were withdrawn, while a number of substantial business men made deposits. A. H. Upton has been appointed cashier of the bank in place of Thompson, who formerly held the position and whose dealings with the Public Grain and Stock exchange resulted in the temporary suspension of the bank. James Bassett, the former teller of the bank, has been appointed assistant cashier. He was implicated with Thompson in the grain transactions. Bassett is succeeded by Frank Truman Stanbrough. Mr. Pitcher, the president of the bank, told a United Press reporter that the affairs of the institution would go on just the same as before the suspension.

A Ball of Fire with a Tail.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 4.—During an electric storm Monday night a boy named Hofman, aged 12 years, living at 2,019 Semple avenue, was struck and killed by lightning while he was seated on a window sill of his home. During the storm a meteor is reported to have fallen in the western part of the city. People who claim to have seen the fall of the meteor say it consisted apparently of a large ball of fire with a tail like that of a comet, and that it gave forth a loud hissing sound until it touched the earth, when its noise ceased with a dull detonation. It made a hole several feet in depth where it struck the ground.

Anti-Lottery Men Firm.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—The lottery is now paying twenty cents a name for signatures to petitions in favor of a charter. One petition presented had only five signatures. Three of them were saloon keepers and the fourth man has been in the insane asylum twice. In Pointe Coupe signatures were obtained from the careless and ignorant by representing that the petitions were for appropriations for levees. There are reports that the lottery people, recognizing their defeat, wish to compromise by taking a re-charter for one year until January, 1895. The antis refuse to yield an inch.

Matron Webb Resigns.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Matron Webb, who has served the police department for the past eighteen years in caring for lost children, has tendered her resignation to the police board. Mrs. Webb pleads her advancing age and her inability to procure such help as would lighten her duties while doing justice to her office. Her retirement will take place from Aug. 15, when she will go to her daughter's house in Haverstraw. She is not entitled to a pension.

No Sugar Trust Decision Yet.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 4.—Rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, the court of appeals has not rendered a decision in the sugar trust case. A decision will not be handed down until next Tuesday unless a departure is taken from regular routine.

The New Mayor of Norwich.

NORWICH, Conn., June 4.—Crandall (Dem.) was elected mayor yesterday. The Republicans elected the remainder of the city ticket.

ALONE IN THE WORLD.

Mother Dead, Father Killed and the Waif Begging His Bread.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A little fellow wearing a melancholy look was a prisoner in the Tombs police court Tuesday morning His face was dirty and his clothes unkempt and ragged. In answer to questions the little fellow said, "Charles Siegel is my name, I am just 11 years old."

Siegel was picked up in the hallway of a Fulton street building by Policeman Sullivan, of the Oak street station. He was enjoying a peaceful nap at the time. At the station house the boy stated that his father had been killed in a mine at Hazleton, Pa. about two months ago.

The father's death was caused by a caving of the bank of the mine. The boy's mother died some time before. As an orphan he was cast adrift, but after a time found employment in the mine. There he remained for nearly three weeks and was paid the sum of $1.10. With this sum of money he started for Philadelphia on foot. The $1.10 was soon spent.

A few days ago, according to his story, he met a man in Philadelphia who claimed to have been acquainted with his dead father. His name he gave as Epstein and his residence No. 122 Sixth street, Philadelphia. Epstein sent the lad to this city. He reached New York yesterday. The waif didn't have a cent and was compelled to beg from passers by.

In order that the case may be fully investigated Justice McMahon handed the boy over to W. A. Finn, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

A PRIEST'S ALLEGED ACTIONS.

They Were Somewhat Peculiar and Are Attributed to Strong Drink.

CLEVELAND, O., June 4.—The little village of Dungannon, in Columbiana county, is in a high state of excitement over the actions of Father Hennessy. A few days ago a woman from this city visited him to see about a child that was under his protection. They had a disagreement, and it is alleged that Father Hennessy blackened her eyes.

Saturday evening, it is charged, he approached Miss McGraw, who was sitting on the porch of her father's home, and ordered her into the house. She was alarmed and went inside, when Hennessy followed and, she claims, struck her over the head with a club, knocking her senseless. Mr. McGraw rushed to protect his daughter and was also knocked down. Hennessy then went to his own house and threatened to shoot anybody who approached it.

Two of McGraw's neighbors went to Hanoverton and swore out a warrant for Hennessy, who was arrested. He behaved outrageously on the way to Hanoverton. His friends were on hand and persuaded Mayor Hotchkiss to release him on $100 bail. Hennessy's alleged actions are attributed to strong drink.

SAID HE WAS AN OFFICER.

And Got Hit in the Eye and Knocked Into a Mortar Bed.

JERSEY CITY, June 4.—Capt. Farrier, of the First precinct, was complainant against four prisoners arraigned before Police Justice Stilsing Tuesday. They were Frank McGinnis, Mark Wilson, Joseph Kavanagh and John Conlin, employed in the erection of the police headquarters building in this city.

Capt. Farrier testified: "There was a fight going on among these men. I was in citizen's dress, and arrested McGinnis when Wilson interfered. I told him that I was an officer, and he replied: 'I don't care a —— if you are an officer; let them fight it out.' He hit me in the right eye and knocked me into a bed of mortar."

Wilson was committed for trial in default of $500 bail. McGinnis and Kavanagh were fined $10 each, and Conlin was discharged.

To Promote Missionary Work.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 4.—The American Home Missionary society of the Congregational churches began its sixty-fourth anniversary here Tuesday morning. About five hundred delegates are present from all parts of the United States, making it the most largely attended anniversary ever held. In the afternoon there was a public meeting for all ladies interested in mission work, and in the evening the Rev. Dr. John K. McLean, of Oakland, Cala., delivered the annual sermon. The business sessions proper will begin Wednesday morning in the Methodist church and will continue two days. The programme consists of reports, addresses, papers, etc., on the best means of facilitating the mission work and religious exercises.

The Conflict Continues.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 4.—Under the state law defining public nuisances and forbidding the sale of liquor to minors and habitual drunkards the county attorney caused the arrest of six "original package" house keepers, and Judge Guthrie sent them to jail and then ordered the establishments closed. Judge Foster, of the federal court, has released them on writs of habeas corpus. The county officials say they will continue making arrests under the state law and imprisoning offenders. The conflict between the state and federal authorities is becoming very bitter.

An Indian Skeleton Unearthed.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., June 4.—An Indian skeleton was unearthed on Mayflower street Monday. The body was lying on its right side.

Opposed to the Bennett Law.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 4.—There is every indication that the so called Lutheran convention that will be held in this city beginning Wednesday next, will not be confined only to followers of that faith who are opposed to the Bennett law, but will include Catholics, Protestants of all denominations and agnostics as well, who believe that the measure should be wiped off the statute books.

TWO TOWNS WIPED OUT

A Terrible Cyclone Mows Down Everything in Its Path.

RAZED BY A CLOUD BURST.

The Village of Loveland Almost Totally Destroyed—A Man Sees His Wife Swept to Her Death and Is Powerless to Help Her Escape.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 4.—Information has just been received here that a terrible cyclone swept through the state last night in the vicinity of Huntingburg and Jasper.

Almost everything in the tornado's path has been swept away.

The report states that many persons have been killed and injured, and that the two towns are almost totally wrecked.

The telegraph and telephone wires are all down, and further particulars cannot be obtained.

Destroyed by a Cloud Burst.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Ia., June 4.—The village of Loveland, eight miles from here, was almost totally destroyed on Saturday night by a cloud burst. The town is located on the Boyer river, and to the east is a gulley which gradually increases in width as it continues westward. The cloud burst occurred a mile or two up this gulley, and its force was terrific. As it made its way towards the village it swept everything before it, leaving hardly a home in the town. The amount of water which so suddenly poured out upon the unfortunate village was anywhere from three to ten feet, according to the locality.

Driven from Their House.

The house of Luke Sayles, a short distance from the river, was the scene of the direst mishap of all. The family, consisting of Sayles, his wife and son, the latter a young man of 22, were driven out of the house by the incoming flood. Finding their escape cut off in front, they left the house hand in hand by the back door. In the back yard there is quite a downward slope from front to back, and the current was so swift that all three were swept from their feet and lost their hold upon one another.

Watched the Mother Drown.

The old man and his son caught hold of a clump of bushes past which they were swept by the torrent and managed to save themselves. Mrs. Sayles, however, was carried by this slender refuge, and all that her husband and son could do was to watch the waves sweep her down into the Boyer to her death.

So far as known no other lives were lost.

The Actors' Fund of America.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The ninth annual business meeting of the Actors' Fund of America was held at Palmer's theatre. A. M. Palmer, president of the fund, presided. There was a good attendance. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Albert M. Palmer; first vice president, Louis Aldrich; second vice president, Edwin Knowles; treasurer, Frank W. Sanger; secretary, Charles W. Thomas. A board of trustees was also elected. The secretary and treasurer presented their reports.

Dime Novel Heroes.

NORWALK, Conn., June 4.—Archie Kemper, Clarrie Sniffen and a boy of the name of Graves, about 14 years old and well connected, left their homes in Westport to hunt the gay and festive buffalo and the painted savages in the wild and woolly west. They went well armed. The boys have been close students of dime novels, and this is their second attempt to secure the scalps of redskins. The whole town is looking for their trail.

Bayne Refused the Nomination.

PITTSBURG, June 4.—In the congressional convention of the Twenty-third district Col. Thomas M. Bayne, who has been that district's representative for seven terms, was renominated Tuesday morning. He refused to accept the nomination, whereupon Col. William A. Stone was nominated.

Four Victims So Far.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 4.—Four members of the Campeau family who were poisoned at George's Lake last Wednesday by eating wild parsnips have died and the recovery of the others is doubtful. The family were miserably poor and gathered roots in the woods for food.

Violated the Alien Labor Law.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Special Treasury Agent Stitch, who has been investigating the charge that members of the Master Carpenters and Builders' association are guilty of violating the alien labor law, has concluded to begin vigorous prosecutions against the offenders.

BRIEF MENTION.

Mrs. Daniel Lockwood, who was arrested at Vineland, N. J., on the charge of attempting to poison her husband with morphine put into his tea, was dismissed by Justice Hall because there was not sufficient evidence to hold her.

Eyraud, the Paris strangler, who was captured in Havana, is said to have told a reporter that Gabrielle Bompard murdered Gouffe without his (Eyraud's) knowledge, but that he assisted her to dispose of the body.

John Mundael was sentenced at Media, Pa., to seven years imprisonment in the eastern penitentiary for stealing a horse and buggy, which crime he confessed. He wept aloud when sentenced.

The city election at Norwich, Conn., resulted in the choice of A. A. Crandall, Democrat, for mayor. The Republicans elect the remainder of the ticket, except one councilman, collector and treasurer.

During a free fight caused by a keg of beer at a Sunday school picnic in McAdory Springs, Ala., George Roebuck was killed and several other young men were badly injured.

Alice Stettler, a widow, aged 17, is locked up in Allentown, Pa., jail on the charge of horse stealing, having driven off with a team belonging to one of the pall bearers at a funeral.

The high license law which has been in effect in Baltimore for a month has proven so satisfactory that there is talk of doubling the present fee of $250.

The public debt of the United States decreased $6,531,871 during the month of May.

FRESH FOREIGN FACTS.

Bismarck Doesn't Want an Ovation When He Visits England.

MISSING VISCOUNT BOYLE.

The Title and Estate of His Late Father Still Awaiting Him—One of His Brothers Also Missing and Foul Play Suspected—A Plot Against the Czar.

LONDON, June 4.—Prince Bismarck is exceedingly annoyed at the manifest determination of the German residents of London to make a demonstration in his favor on the occasion of his forthcoming visit to the English capital, and will endeavor to evade a public welcome at the hands of his countrymen if possible. It is understood that a large sum of money has already been subscribed by prominent Germans in London to defray the expense of what they intend shall be a reception befitting the occasion of the visit of the master spirit in the creation of the German empire, and it will be difficult for the ex-chancellor to escape an ovation at their hands.

Foul Play Suspected.

LONDON, June 4.—The missing Viscount Boyle, who is anxiously awaited by his family to assume the title and estate of his father, the late Earl of Shannon, is still successful in concealing his whereabouts, if, indeed, he is alive, and it is now feared that another member of the family has followed him into obscurity. At the beginning of the search for Lord Boyle one of his brothers went to Australia, where it was thought the missing heir might be found. For a while he communicated with his friends at home, but of late nothing has been heard from him, nor can anything be learned of his movements. As in the case of the missing earl, foul play is suspected as the cause of the brother's disappearance.

A Fresh Conspiracy Against the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The police of this city have become possessed of the knowledge that a fresh conspiracy against the life of the czar by Nihilists in France is in process of incubation. The French police, having been advised of this fact by the Russian officials, are now engaged in hunting down the conspirators.

The Pope to German Bishops.

LONDON, June 4.—The pope has issued a circular letter to the German bishops urging them to keep the Catholic movement in Germany alive, and spare no pains to insure its advancement.

Died at Ninety-five.

LONDON, June 4.—Sir George Bevins, one of the promoters of the Cunard line of steamships, died at his residence on the Clyde. He was 95 years of age.

Kicked the Plate Into Her Brain.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Maud Gordon and Minnie Dayton became involved in a quarrel early Tuesday morning at Polk and Clark streets. The Gordon woman, who is the possessor of a trepanned skull, was no match for the Dayton woman, who knocked her down and kicked her so badly about the head that the silver plate in her skull was pushed into the brain. She was taken to the County hospital, where her injuries were pronounced fatal. Minnie Dayton was arrested and locked up at the Harrison street station. Later on in the morning she attempted to commit suicide by hanging herself to the bars of her cell.

Wallace and Lewis Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Inspector Byrnes has received word of the arrest at Havana of Robert H. Wallace and J. R. Lewis by Detective Sergeants Adams and McNaught, of the Central office. Young Wallace is charged with the embezzlement of about $50,000 from his uncle, John Wallace, editor of Wallace's Monthly. He lost the money betting on horses, with the assistance of Lewis, a pool seller, who accompanied Wallace in his flight and is thought to have shared the $50,000. It was stated that Wallace was arrested last week, but this was erroneous.

Kemmler's Case.

BUFFALO, June 4.—District Attorney Quinby and Charles S. Hatch, attorney for murderer Kemmler, appeared before the general term of the supreme court Tuesday morning and, at the request of Mr. Hatch, an order was directed entered confirming the decision of Judge Underwood, to the effect that the warden of Auburn prison was the proper custodian of the condemned man. An appeal to the court of appeals will be made at once, and argument will probably be made at the present term of that court at Saratoga.

Put a Bullet Through His Head.

LAWRENCE, Mass., June 4.—John H. Morse, superintendent of the Methuen cotton mills, Methuen, Mass., committed suicide in that town by firing a revolver bullet through his head. He was 44 years of age, and leaves a widow and two young children. The doctors assign the cause as temporary insanity following sickness. He was a large hearted, scholarly man and a general favorite. He worked his way up from a poor office boy to the position of superintendent, and had filled that position twenty years.

Woodcock Was Plucky.

SWIFT CURRENT, N. W. T., June 4.—An attempt was made to rob the Battleford mail, while lying up at Otter Station. The would be robbers overhauled two sacks of newspapers and demanded that the courier, E. Woodcock, open the registered letters, which were inside. Woodcock for an answer shot at the men through the door and the robbers fled, shrieking with pain and leaving a trail of blood behind them.

Their Idea of Fun Was Peculiar.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—At 10 o'clock last Monday a crowd of five white lads half grown were having a frolic on the river front at the foot of Clark avenue when a crazy negro came along shouting that he wanted to "go to Jesus." The boys, just for fun, seized him, dragged him to the river and drowned him. The police arrested one boy and are looking for the others.

DANBURY, Conn., June 4.—Four men were seriously injured, one probable fatally, by the falling of a portion of the wall of Rogers' block, in process of erection.

BONNER'S OFFSPRING HEARD FROM.

LAURELTON, Union Co., Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—

Dear Sirs—Yours of the 15inst. received and contents duly noted. The colt you alluded to—"Grover Cleveland," by name—was bred from Bonner and a blooded Hambletonian mare. He was born May 8th, 1885, making him five years old by May 8th, next. Color, Black. When two years old he weighed 1000 pounds and had one mare colt—a good one—now two years old. When three years old he had three mares which brought three colts, all good ones. Last summer he had 17 mares, of which 14 are with foal.

He stands 12½ hands high in his bare feet this morning and weighs about 1200 pounds. When he was three years old he trotted in 2.50. I intend to have him kept for service this season. I worked him right along since he was two years old. He is perfect built horse in every particular and a square stepper. Can be bought, before the season opens, for five hundred dollars cash and not a dollar less.

Very respectfully yours,
D. O. BOW

all persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should all at the Cummings House stables and see the trottingbred horse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by Messenger. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years.

This horse has always been kept for service. However after one week's training upon the track, at Lewisburg he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

"Why doesn't he take Hood's Sarsaparilla?" is the general inquiry of friends when a person suffers from any disease of the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is continually proving its merit as a valuable medicine, by the many cures it is accomplishing. This positive merit is the secret of its wonderful and unparalleled success. All we ask of any one needing a good medicine is that Hood's Sarsaparilla be given a fair trial. We know that it is prepared with the greatest care from the best ingredients it is possible to obtain, that its Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process do give it superior curative power, and that for all diseases or affections caused by impure blood or low state of the system, it is absolutely unequalled. It will cure, when in the power of medicine, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Sores, Boils, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Complaints, etc.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I suffered a great while with dyspepsia. I was urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have taken two bottles. It has entirely cured me of dyspepsia, and a scrofulous affection has also entirely disappeared. I can hardly find words to express my high appreciation of Hood's Sarsaparilla." ALLEN H. MELHOLM, City Hotel, Lancaster, Penn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way, all the weakened parts, acts upon the blood as a purifier and vitalizer, assists to healthy action the kidneys and liver.

"I have sold three times as much Hood's Sarsaparilla as of all others combined, in my 17 years in business." W. D. MELICK, Sunbury, Penn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla and find that it accomplishes all that is claimed. I was troubled with a breaking out of the skin, commonly called 'hives.' Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me immediate relief. I can cheerfully recommend it to all those similarly troubled." WM. GALLAGHER, Weighmaster 9th Ward Gas Works, Philadelphia, Penn.

"Seven years ago, my little boy was bitten by a spider. The poison entered his blood, and sores soon broke out about his body; they itched terribly and caused him intense suffering. Finally we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, and he took one bottle and one-third of another, when the sores disappeared. He has not a sore spot on him now, and is perfectly cured." WM. H. B. WARD, Downington, Penn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I have taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla for salt rheum and dyspepsia, with which I was troubled very much. After taking this medicine I am feeling as well as ever in my life. I consider and advertise to others that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier." G. W. ROSE, Pottsville, Penn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For three years I suffered with dyspepsia, growing so bad that I was at one time completely broken down in health. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla on trial, and seeing that it was doing me good, continued with it. After taking six bottles I gained strength and appetite and was restored to my former health." A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY.

Here's a Way You Can Be Fixed Up So You Will Last Forever.

PHILIPPI, W. Va., June 4.—A body of physicians, including Drs. Cilley and Freeman, of this city; White, of Washington; Doremus, of New York, and Hordesley, of Wheeling, W. Va., are here investigating the remarkable discoveries of an old German farmer, G. W. Hamrick, who lives in a house just outside of the town. Here Mr. Hamrick has existed for years, and until last week no one ever knew why he always kept the place closed.

It has been discovered that the old five room log hut is full of curiosities. It is full of mummies, both of brutes and human beings. In this house lie the bodies of two adults, natural almost as in life, every particle of the skin exposed to the air, blood, brains and viscera remaining. In the veins and arteries the blue and black blood stands out as clear and natural as when these people lived and walked and knew the passions and emotions of beings.

The finger and toe nails show the pink flesh of life, and on the cheek of one who died of consumption the scarlet mark of that disease remained clear and distinct. For two years exposed to the air, without decay or odor, these bodies have lain in this man's house just above his bedroom. His process is a discovery of his own. In the door that leads to his bedroom a huge white cat sits guard, [illegible] tongue, undecayed, lolling out as if [illegible] about to lap milk. For four years that cat has been the sole guard of that lonesome door. On a mantel, in an attitude of listening, is a young deer.

Rabbits, pigs, squirrels, chickens and even a calf are to be seen, all as natural as life, and all preserved by this wonderful secret. Mr. Hamrick claims that in an hour he can prepare a body without making an incision of any sort or removing any part of the body, so that it may be taken around the world without ice or arsenical fluids. These two bodies, which lie in modest state in this humble house, have turned parchment color with the hurrying of time, and the eyes have become much sunken.

HE HAD A PECULIAR TOE.

And His Footprints on the Lake Shore Gave Him Away.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., June 4.—James Christie, a well known young farmer, living near Fletcher's lake, came to this city last Friday and obtained $800 from the banks on paper on which are forged the names of prominent farmers in his neighborhood. Christie then called on an insurance agent and took out a policy of $5,000 on his life. While the policy was being written up Christie purchased a suit of clothes. Going home he gave the policy to his wife and ate his supper.

At 8 o'clock a neighbor's boy called and the two went swimming in the lake near by. Christie swam out into the deep water before his companion undressed. In a few moments Christie called out to his friend on the bank, saying that he had the cramps, and told him to get a boat near by and come to his rescue. The boat put out, but Christie had disappeared.

The lake was dragged for two days and nights for the body. Christie's clothes on the bank were found where he took them off and untouched. Tracks were discovered yesterday of a barefooted man going toward Christie's house from the lake. A peculiar shaped toe which marked itself in the footprints settles the fact in the minds of the neighbors that Christie made his way home naked while his friend was getting the boat, and donning the new clothes which he had purchased he left the country. Christie was heavily in debt.

The Engineer Guilty of Manslaughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The inquest into the Oakland railroad disaster has been concluded. All efforts to have the engineer of the ill fated train present failed. He is still in hiding. Conductor T. A. Davis swore that he knew nothing about the draw being open, and that his first intimation of the fact was when the engine and car plunged into the water. The train was running at a very slow rate of speed—not more than two miles an hour. The jury, after a short deliberation, rendered a verdict that censures the railroad company for not having taken sufficient measures to signal trains and finds Engineer Dunn guilty of manslaughter.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor of the United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's new Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am well, gaining 20lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it.' Free trial bottles at Keplingers Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

EPOCH.

The transition from long lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much I heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c. and $1 per bottle at Keplinger & Co. Drugstore.

I Will Never!

Allow myself to suffer again what I have suffered for the last year. That vile disease, Dyspepsia, gave me no comfort: I could not eat nor enjoy anything. The doctors amounted to nothing; nothing seemed to relieve me, until I used a bottle of Sulphur Bitters: Four bottles made me well.—Joseph Batchelder, Master of Schooner C A Baker.

The Disagreeable Winter Gone.

Now that the cold, drizzly rains are transformed to delightful spring, and the muddy roads to pleasant drives, it would be well to look about and prepare for the lurking disease often coming with the new vegetation, as to better enable us to follow our daily avocations we should be in good health and spirits. No well regulated family is without a stimulant of some kind. Deception is probably more practiced by unscrupulous dealers in liquors than any other business. Max Klein, 82 Federal street, is a reliable party; to him we point with pleasure. No deception, no misrepresentation, no sailing under false colors with him. His Silver age Rye is positively pure and sold everywhere for $1.50 per quart only His-six-year-old Pennsylvania Rye at $1 each quart, or six quarts for $5, are as represented. His wines, brandies and gins are good and reasonable as any in the country. Send for complete catalogue and price list to Max Klien, 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa. tf

Ulcerated Sore Throat.

Two years ago I had Ulcerated Sore Throat, and was so weakened and reduced in flesh that my friends thought it impossible for me to recover. I was attended by the very best physicians, but their endeavors to relieve me were futile. My mother seeing Swift's Specific (S S S) so highly recommended, decided to give me a course of it, and after taking the first bottle I was greatly relieved, and after taking several bottles I was entirely cured. I have not had any signs of a return of the disease since

The Grandest He Ever Saw.

Mr. W. J. Colman, a prominent citizen of Gainesville, Fla., writes the following under date of Feb. 10, 1890: "I contract a severe case of Contagious Blood Poison that gave a great deal of trouble, and baffled the physicians of this place. I was finally advised to try Swift Specific (S S S), and I can say, with great pleasure, that a few bottles of it has entirely cured me. I have no hesitancy in saying that S. S. S. is the grandest blood medicine I ever saw, and can cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering as I was."

A Haunted House.

This body of ours has been likened to a tenement. It often has a haunted apartment—the stomach. Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspepsia, digestion flies and refuse to return. What can break the spell, what can raise the ban laid upon the unhappy organs? We answer unhesitatingly, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we are warranted in the responce by the reccorded testimony of myraids, covering a period of over a third of a century. A course of the Bitters, begun in any stage of the affliction, and presistently followed, will terminate in cure positive, not partial. The Bitters restore tone to the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the juices exuding from the cellular tissue that act upon the food digestively, expels bile from the stomach and the blood, and promotes a regular habit of body: Malaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia give way to headache.

Weak Women,

The more sensitive nature of the feminine sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. The nervous system gives way, sick headache is frequent, the appetite is lost, and other ailments peculiar to the sex cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for such cases, and has received the most gratifying praise for the relief it has afforded thousands of women whose very existence before taking it was only misery. It strengthens the nerves, cures sick headache and indigestion, purifies and vitalizes the blood, and gives regular and healthy action to every organ in the body. j 5-m.

VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR.

As a part of the census of the people to be taken during the month of June special provision has been made by Congress for ascertaining the names of surviving soldiers, sailors, and marines who were mustered into the service of the United States during the war of the rebellion, and of the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines who have died. In connection with this special census of veterans the organization or vessel in which they served, the term of service in each case, and present residence will be taken by the census enumerators. In the case of widows, information regarding the service of their deceased husbands is also required.

The importance of accurate statements concerning the military record of each participant in the late war should not be underestimated. It should be the duty, moreover, of every veteran soldier or sailor to see that the enumerator is placed in possession of the necessary information concerning his own service. If he can not be at home when the enumerator calls he should leave a proper memorandum in the hands of his wife or other member of his household, so that the work of the census may not be delayed, and also that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of the statements concerning his service which may be given to the census enumerator. That there may be no question as to the points to be covered by this memorandum, it may be well to state that the special inquiries to be made concerning veterans of the civil war include the name the company, and the regiment or vessel in which they served, their late rank, the dates of enlistment and discharge, the length of service in years, months, and days, and their present post-office address. Where a soldier or sailor re-enlisted or served in more than one organization or vessel, he should be very careful to give the term of service in each instance, and to cover each enlistment. In giving the organization care should be taken to distinguish the arm of the service, as infantry, cavalry, artillery, ect., and if a person served under an assumed name, his statement should be made to cover both the name under which he served and the true name by which he is now known.

Veterans of the war generally will recognize and appreciate the value of this special census to them, and they should aid the census enumerators in getting true statements in every way possible. Without their co-operation correct results can not be reached. This personal appeal is made to them, therefore, in the hope that their attention may be specially directed to the importance of this work and the necessary information may be promptly supplied to the census enumerator when he calls some time during the month of June.

"Some lives are like Horse shoes the more worn the brighter." Busy wives who use SAPOLIO never seem to grow old. Try a cake...

A complete wreck of domestic happiness has often resulted from badly washed dishes, from an unclean kitchen, or from trifles which seemed light as air. But by these things a man often judges of his wife's devotion to her family, and charges her with general neglect when he finds her careless in these particulars. Many a home owes a large part of its thrifty neatness and its consequent happiness to SAPOLIO.

OLD WORLD NEWS NOTES

The American Hog Causes Discontent Among French Workmen.

DISCRIMINATED AGAINST.

And This, Say the Discontented Ones, Is Wholly in the Interest of Peasant Farmers at the Expense of the Consumers.

LONDON, May 31.—Much discontent exists in France in regard to the virtual embargo on American pork, which has raised the price of meat considerably throughout the country. The American product is discriminated against by vexatious and unnecessary inspection on the pretense that disease may be lurking in the meat. The working classes in the cities are indignant over the discrimination, which they regard as intended for the benefit of the peasant farmers of France at the expense of the consumers in the industrial centers. M. Delahaye, who was the French representative in the Berlin conference for the benefit of workingmen, expressed himself very plainly against the policy of excluding foreign meat, and he declares that it is one of the grievances that is likely to strengthen the Socialists by promoting agitation. However, in this respect France is not alone, and Germany is preparing to increase instead of lessening the severity of the laws which are supposed to protect the public health, but really protect the farmer and the cattle raiser.

The Bicycle for Postal Messengers.

It is stated that as the result of long deliberation and careful experiment Postmaster Raikes has decided to introduce the bicycle as a means of locomotion for postal messengers in the delivery of telegrams, it having been demonstrated that fully one-half of the time now occupied in that work can be saved by the use of the wheel. In anticipation of the innovation many of the messengers have become expert wheelmen, and it is not improbable that the man who is destined to defeat the now invincible Howell, who won the bicycle championship of the world at Leicester, on Wednesday, will receive his training in this service.

Bismarck Says It's Russia.

PARIS, May 31.—The morning papers print what purports to be reports of conversations with Prince Bismarck in which he is alleged to have said that his son and himself would return to office if they were asked to do so. Among other things he is reported to have said is that Germany would never attack France. The real enemy of Europe is Russia, who has only been friendly with France because it has suited her purpose. Prince Bismarck said he might re-enter the reichstag, not with a view to hamper Chancellor Caprivi, but to uphold his own ideas.

A Public Memorial Forbidden.

BERLIN, May 31.—The emperor has forbidden the Berlin magistracy to receive any money for the purpose of erecting a memorial of the late Emperor Frederick. This order is given, the emperor states, for the reason that he himself intends to defray the expenses of erecting the memorial.

The Thistle and Valkyrie Defeated.

LONDON, May 31.—The Yarana won the fifty mile race of the Royal Thames Yacht club. The Thistle was second and the Valkyrie third. Mr. Jameson's new crack boat, the Iverna, made a very poor showing and was unplaced at the finish. She did not use her center board.

The Duc d'Orleans to Visit the Pope.

PARIS, May 31.—The Duc d'Orleans has written a letter to the pope, who has replied through the medium of a special messenger. It is stated that the Duc d'Orleans will pay a visit to the Vatican after his liberation from his present confinement.

Will Not Be Prosecuted for Heresy.

GLASGOW, May 31.—The general assembly of the Free Church of Scotland rejected, by a vote of 392 to 237, a proposal to prosecute Professor Bunce, of Glasgow, for heresy. The result of the vote was announced amid great excitement.

Denounced by Cardinal Manning.

LONDON, May 31.—Cardinal Manning has published an article in The Contemporary Review denouncing the government's proposal to endow retiring publicans.

Mr. Chamberlain Coming Over.

LONDON, May 31.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and his wife have decided to make a visit to America in the fall.

The Law Is Constitutional.

ALBANY, May 31.—Attorney General Tabor has sent to the secretary of state an opinion upon the law requiring the police and excise boards to take oath that they are not connected with an liquor interests. He says that the law is constitutional, but does not apply to sheriffs, game constables or justices of the peace. It does apply to town and village presidents and mayors of cities. The failure to comply vacates the office and the officer may be found guilty of a misdemeanor.

Eyraud's Denial.

HAVANA, May 31.—Eyraud, although he acknowledges his identity, continues to energetically deny that he committed the murder he is accused of. He pretends that when he arrived at the apartment of Gabrielle Bompard on the fatal day he found there the corpse of Gouffe, who had been murdered by persons unknown to him. The only part he took in the bloody deed was to help Gabrielle, on account of the affection he had for her, to remove the body from the premises.

Dead on His Child's Grave.

MERCED, Cal., May 31.—The body of ex-District Attorney Frank M. Ostrander has been found by the grave of his child in the cemetery. He left home on Monday after a quarrel with his wife. He purchased a quantity of laudanum at a drug store and went to the cemetery and swallowed the fatal dose.

A Discharged Workman's Costly Revenge.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—The Laclede Flour mills were consumed by fire. The loss is $75,000 and is total, as the insurance policy lapsed a few days ago. Henry Hoffman, a discharged employe, was arrested and confessed that he set fire to the mill out of revenge.

VOICES OF THE PAST.

BY MRS. ELIZA HOUGHTON GREEN.

This bright May morn again we come,
With bugle note and muffled drum—
And funeral dirges for the dead.
With banners waving, and martial tread
Of loyal feet, to deck the graves,
Of fallen, but not forgotten, braves.

From out the buried past we hear,
Voices ringing loud and clear.
War's deafening shouts we hear again,
The Colonel's charge to "Close up men."
The rugged gaps in the walls of blue,
When the iron surge rolled heavily through.

And again we see the crimson drips
Ooze from the dying soldier's lips.
And he murmurs a prayer for the loved at home,
And we hear the low whisper "Dear mother come ?"
Then sinks to rest to wake no more,
To sounds of love or din of war.

Sad memory turns to Southern skies,
And tears bedew our misty eyes;
Through hospital wards we tread again
And see long rows of wounded men.
With quivering lip and faded eye,
We hear their whispered last "good bye."

But well they sleep who sank to rest
On Pennsylvania's loving breast—
Where the cypress weeps and the roses bloom
And violets kiss the lowly tomb.
On freedom's alter these were slain,
There deeds will live when centuries wane.

Full many a northern blast has swept
Where unknown heroes long have slept
On plains where palm trees wave,
And wild flowers deck the lonely grave.
In prison pens, 'neath Southern skies,
Ah, may a martyr closed his eyes,

A centuries' quarter now has sped
And marked the fields where heroes bled.
When traitorous foes fought hard to sever,
Our glorious Union, linked forever.
Fame guards the spot where patriots sleep,
And glory her proud vigils keep.

They are not dead; but only sown—
And live forever as God's own—
Beneath the mold as living seed;
We reap the harvest of their deed.
They broke the shackles of the slave
And freedom to a nation gave.

Call them not dead who only sleep
Where fame eternal vigils keep.
On sculptured shaft and storied urn,
Fair victory points to words that burn
With truth divine; and glory keep
Her record bright, where valor sleeps.

Chat About Shoes.

Shoe and Leather Facts.

Many ladies like Russia leather shoes on account of their perfume.

Chocolate Russia leather for the Oxford tie supersedes the red shoes of last year.

The "K" is a neat shoe of dark red colored leather. It is fastened across the instep by two narrow bands of leather, forming the letter "K."

The "gaiter boot" as a high-legged boot, and buttons in a straight line down the left side like a gaiter. The top of the boot is glace kid, the vamp of patent leather.

A brown leather shoe, the precise color of a cigar, and, therefore, quite dark, is much liked for evening. Small metal ornaments, such as bronze or steel buckles, trim the high instep.

Another new boot has transparent uppers made of open work silk nets. It is generally worn in the evening, and the wearer of it has an opportunity of displaying an elaborate stocking.

After the 'gaiter boot,' the next newest novelty is a boot made of glace kid, the toe of which is ornamented with a butterfly or a group of flowers embroidered on the boot in colored silks.

Fire slippers of crimson quilted silk are delightful possessions for fatigued feet, and after the footbath of soda or saleratus enable the foot to recruit from its fatigue of a long walk and be in good dancing order.

Never wear a tight slipper to be married in or for a wedding reception, is a good rule. Tight slippers cause red noses and other unbecoming and wearied or exasperated effects of countenance that no bride should show.

AN INCIDENT OF WAR.

"I had just sold by commission as lieutenant in the British army when the Franco-Prussian war opened," said an Englishman a few days ago to some friends at the bar of the Hoffman House. "I had still some pretty strong hankerings after an active military career, and as I had been disappointed in the business project that had induced me to relinquish the hope of seeing further service with the red coats, I joined the Foreign Legion of the French army, and in the following half year any craving I might have had for fighting was amply gratified. I had many adventures, some of them startling enough, but one, to which no personal danger was attached stands out, at times, with unpleasant distinctness in my memory.

"A few weeks before all French hopes of final success were buried at Sedan, a portion of my corps was detached to engage a party of Prussians that had been harassing some villages near Metz. We found the enemy readily enough, but they had been strongly re-enforced, and, though we drove them back after several hours of very hard fighting, we suffered severely.

"Night had fallen before the firing ceased, and I was sent with an order to an officer on a distant part of the field. The moon was shining as I returned, and I was walking my horse, as the animal was very tired, when I reined him in quickly, because a feeble voice called to me.

"Sir," it said, in very good English, 'I recognize you as an officer of the Foreign Legion. You are an Englishman, I think. Will you do me a very great, and a last, favor ?'

"I dismounted, and found a young French officer lying at my feet. His sword and pistols were gone, and he was desperately wounded. His eyes were almost closed, the death damp lay cold and heavy on his forehead, and little specks of foam and blood were on his lips. One bullet had passed completely through his body, tearing his lungs in its passage, and he was gashed and perforated in a half a dozen places.

"'What can I do for you ?' I asked.

"'I am suffering horribly,' he gasped, 'and I may live for an hour yet. Will you have the great kindness to blow out my brains and end my suffering.

"I looked very closely at the poor fellow. I know something about gunshot wounds, and it was as clear to me as is the sun at noon that he had no earthly chance of living until the dawn.

"'I cannot take your life,' I said, 'but if you desire it I will lend you my pistol and turn my head away.'

"Thank you,' he muttered gratefully; that will do just as well. I have still enough strength left to pull the trigger. You will find a flask of eau de vie and a bundle of cigars in the pocket of my cloak. They are yours, mon ami. Take them, I entreat you. Adieu !'

"Silently I handed him the weapon and turned away. A sharp report rang out, When I looked again at the Frenchman he had ceased to suffer. I took the pistol from his hand and rode away quickly.

"I have been condemned for the part I played in the tragedy, but I have never blamed myself."

An Unprovked Assault.

James Cornelius, a Bellefonte man, was before Alderman Noble this morning charged with assault and battery on the person of Eminent Commander J. M. Schram, of Knapp Commandery, No. 40. of Ridgway. Commander Schram arrived in the city yesterday and was sleeping peacefully in his bed at the Keating House, the headquarters of the commandery; when assaulted by Cornelius. It was shown before the Alderman that Cornelius struck Commander Schram as he lay sleeping. The blow rendered him unconscious, but another Sir Knight who slept in the same room was awakened by the noise and leaping from his bed made an effort to capture Cornelius, who fled. He was arrested, however, by Special Officer Myers and locked up until this morning when he was brought before the Alderman, who committed him for appearance at the September term of court. Cornelius pleaded that he had no intention of assaulting Sir Knight Schram, but intended his blows for some one else but was mistaken in his man.—Lock Haven Express.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Patrick Dillon Had His Head Cut Off in Collins' Stone Quarry.

On Friday about noon the usual amount of blasts were about to be put off in Collins' stone quarries. The fuse had been lighted and the men had all gone under cover. The blasts exploded and the jar of same loosened a large rock weighing hundreds of pounds which fell a distance of many feet striking Patrick Dillon, a mine boss, on the head and cutting it in two as clean as if done with a knife. Death, of course, was instantaneous.

Mr. Dillion was a single man, having never married. He is the very same man who was almost killed on a previous occasion in the same quarry.

She Sized Him Up.

From the Detroit Free Pres.

A citizen who was passing by a house on Indiana street the other day observed smoke coming through the roof near the chimney, and he rushed up to the door and knocked an alarm.

„What do you want?" asked the woman as she appeared.

Madam, don't get excited, but I must tell you"

"Oh, I shan't get excited. She interrupted. "I always keep this handy by.'

And she lugged out big revolver which hung on one of the pegs of the hat-rack and continued :

And he had to retire to a position out side the gate and inform her that the roof was on fire.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

ELEVEN YOUNG LADIES AND FIVE GENTLEMEN GRADUATE—A PROGRAMME OF INTERESTING EXERCISES.

There is always one or more events in the lives of every individual that are looked forward to with great expectation—and considerable nervousness——and are afterwards regarded as the one particular mile-stone of reference for many minor events. Such a time in the lives of the student is graduation day. It is always anticipated with the greatest care and preparation possible—both outwardly and inwardly. Thursday the day of the High School commencement, was no exception to the rule, and when the large audience of parents, sisters, brothers and friends had assembled in the court house they were pleased with the complete show of interest manifested from the handsome decorations visible and from the fine appearance of every member of the class, as well as from the thorounh work they displayed in the preparation and rendition of their various exercises.

The bar had been removed to make more room for the occasion and an extension to the platform laid down. Against the wall a bank of flowers and evergreens which rose to a pyramid in the centre forming a very pretty background. Potted plants, in full bloom, were placed promiscuously around and all this, in addition to the decoration with bunting and festoons rendered the court room a very fitting place for the exercises of the day.

The Aeolian orchestra was present and at 2.45 rendered their first selection. Immediately thereafter Rev. Ed. Everett Hoshour opened the exercises with an invocation very fitting and appropriate. The class was composed of the following persons, namely: Misses Bridgie A. Curry, Carrie M. Gross, Laura K. Hafer, Myra Holliday, Florence R. Longacre, Carrie R. Shirk, Lillie M. Smith, Millie F. Smith, Anna J. Stott, Mable A. Woodring, Emma L. Yeager, and Harry G. DeSylvia, Boyd A. Musser, Geo. M. Potter, Chas. A. Rowan, and John W. Morgan. Boyd A. Musser took first honor and Harry G. DeSylvia, second. The class' motto was "Facere non Dicere." The following programme was rendered :

Salutatory and Oration.....DESTINY OF OUR RACE, Harry G. DeSylvia.

Essay.....SHADOWS LIFTED, Laura K. Hafer.

Valedictory, ... }

All the young ladies wore charming costumes of either cream or white material and wore roses—pink and yellow—at their corsage. The young gentlemen were attired in neat-fitting and becoming suits. We will not enter into a discussion of the merits of the various essays and orations as space will not permit; suffice to say that each and everyone is deserving of the highest praise for their respective work.

IN THE EVENING.

In the evening the court house was almost as full as it was in the afternoon. Dr. Waller State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was introduced and made a lenghty and argumentative address. The Doctor is not a flowery orator by any means but what he says is fraught with more truth than fiction and conveys a world of meaning to his hearers. At the close of the Doctor's talk the Aeolian orchestra rendered a selection and then D. F. Fortney, Esq., bestowed the following prizes; For Natural sciences to Harry DeSylvia, Robertson's Charles V—Prescotts.

For literary merit, to Miss Myra Holliday, copies similarly bound of Byron's, Longfellow's and Moore's poems.

For Mathematics, to Boyd A. Musser Knight's Half Hours with the Best Authors.

A copy of Bryant's works was presented to Miss Mabel Woodring by an admiring friend, who considered that the young lady deserved special honor for her success in completing the course against such adverse circumstances.

Misses Lillie M. Smith and Bridgie A. Curry were commended for general excellence in all studies.

After the bestowal of the presents Mr. Fortney made one of his characteristic good talks, in which he suggested to some rich man that he donate some money to build another and large school house in Bellefonte. After the awarding of the diplomas Rev. M. O. Noll pronounced the benediction and while the orchestra played a selection the audience passed out.

REMEMBERING THE DEAD.

MEMORIAL DAY IN BELLEFONTE FITLY AND APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED—WHAT THEY DID AT HOWARD.

If there is any one thing that redounds to the credit of the American people it is the practice of remembering and honoring the heroic dead who gave their lives to seal the fate of these United States. It is a glorious thing and the more the citizens of this great union come to realize that fact and combine to make it universal and perpetual the more fitting tribute will they pay to the dead, but not forgotten, soldier.

Memorial day in Bellefonte was appropriately observed. All the forenoon contingents of Gregg Post and the W. R. C. were busily engaged in constructing an appropriate monument of flowers. When completed it was a large base on which was built a column of flowers beautifully arranged, and presenting a handsome appearance—a very fitting tribute. At half past two o'clock in the the afternoon the column of march was formed in the Diamond and was as follows ;

Bellefonte band, Company B, Gregg Post, Pleasant Gap Band, Undine Hose Company, Zion Band, Logan Hose Company. A carriage containing the orator of the day, Comrade W. W. Brown, ex-Governor Curtin, and Dr. Fairlamb preceded the line of march and this was followed by the wagon bearing the floral offering. They made the parade as announced and then wended their way up Howard street to the cemetery and formed the "hollow square" on the north side of the cemetery. A shower of rain just then falling caused a little unessiness but it was soon over. The four graves were next decorated by comrades R. C. Irvin, Miller, Jas. Rankin and F. P. Green. The choir then rendered an ode entitled, "Tread Lightly O'er Their Graves" The general decoration of all graves followed after which the comrades assembled at the bugle call to hear the oration as delived by comrade W. W. Brown, of Bradford, Pa., the orator of the day.

We would like to give comrade Brown's speech in full as he said so much that was beautiful and interesting but we cannot. Mr. Brown is an orator, a very interesting one, too, and during the forty minutes he talked he held the closest attention of all his auditors, and when he closed he was greeted with a round of applause. The salute was fired just prior to the speech and just after an ode was rendered by the choir, a selection by the band followed and then the column reformed and marched back to the diamond from where it dispersed.

AT HOWARD.

Decoration day was appropriately observed by the Grove Brothers' Post, No. 362. at Howard, Pa. In the morning the Post and Howard band went to Jacksonville and decorated there, In the afternoon the Post, assisted by the Odd Fellows, the P. S. of A., and the Howard band, formed the line of parade and marched to the Howard cemetery and decorated the graves, Two special features of the occasion were the excellent oration of Clement Dale, Esq., and the fine music rendered by a picked choir. Both were greatly praised. After the decoration in the Howard cemetery they proceeded to Schenk's graveyard and performed a like memorial service there.

The decoration at the places along the line was appropriately done and deserving of more extended notice than we can today give.

QUEER CONDENSATIONS.

Every tramp arrested in Salem, Ore., is compelled to work in the public streets.

Death has just separated a couple in England who had been married seventy-seven years.

Tom Burgess, an old-time circus clown is driving a street sprinkler at Dowagiac. It is to be hoped that he will wet down those dusty old jokes.

The mail carrier between Sierra Valley and Truckee, Cal., admits that he burned some newspaper mail one day lately to warm himself and nephew.

It is said that cattle in the neighborhood of Plant City, Fla., are actually perishing for want of water. The ponds and branches around there have all dried up.

New York barbers are removing the clocks from their shops because customers get nervous by watching them while being removed and the employes can't do their work properly.

A new industry has sprung up in Kansas—that of collecting old tinware which is used at the Argentine smelter for fluxing purposes. An industrious man can gather up a ton of it in a day, which brings $2.75 delivered at the railroad.

How often we hear middle-aged people say regarding that reliable old cough remedy, N. H. Downs' Elixir: "Why, my mother gave it to me when I was a child, and I use it in my family; it always cures." It is always guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

WHO CAN TELL.

THE ANTECEDENTS OF REV. J. J. H. REEDY —THEY ONCE LIVED IN CENTRE COUNTY.

The following communication has been received at this office and we give it in the hope that some of our readers may remember the family or know something of the writer's antecedents and be able to furnish the desired information ;

OMAHA, Nebraska, May 22nd., 1890.

To the Editor of the Bellefonte Republican

DEAR SIR :—There is a movement here to organize a Nebraska Society of The American Revolutionary War.

The object of our correspondence is to get what further information that may be gleaned from all sources as to my eligibility to become a Member of the Society ; and this will assert or deny privileges of five Brothers to affiliate in the same or another Society. My sons are also interested in the result of the investigation we purpose making, and in fact, have begun to prosecute.

But to give you a hint as to who my ancestors were, I will state that I was born in Curwensville, Clearfield county, Pa. My parents were William M. Reedy and Mary Kerr Rankin, both formerly of Centre county. And here comes the first point of interest to me as regards tracing my father's side of the house back to the earliest possible date in this country. Does the County History throw any light on the Reedy family? The answer is awaited with curiosity and somewhat of misgivings as to its completeness. On my mother's side, I am the grandson of John M. Rankin and Catherine Kerr. Then we have the names of William Rankin and Abigail Houston, although my mother's writing is not perfectly clear as to the latter name.

Perhaps other names will be helpful in getting further light on the subject. Reedy Rankin, Kerr, Houston, Bailey. Other names will be found as we proceed.

This Society is worthy of our most cordial support; and the objects in contemplation merit hearty co-operation. Patriotism is not dead or dying; but the brave of to-day are not aware of the valiant records of their forefathers. Lineage is not a matter of supreme moment, but the curiosity that prompts a fond dwelling on the past, if limited to deeds of valor or service for humanity, is commendable. Besides the links of kindred are allowed to unite all men closer together in one larger brotherhood. Let not those who cannot claim Membership in the Society misjudge its purposes, or imagine that they are not wanted socially. Societies are being formed for Pennsylvanias, Ohians, Germans, Irish, etc., etc. Give the Sons of the American Revolution the benefit of your influence as a conservor of the news of the earlier days, not merely a party organ of the present.

Resolution and Plan of Work.

The following resolutions and plan of work were adopted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the recent Convention in this place :

WHEREAS, The W. C. T. U., since its last convention, has been severely criticised by the secular press on account of its strong sympathy for political Prohibition, and

WHEREAS. A few of the members of the organization deemed it wise to withdraw therefrom and form what they are pleased to call a Non-Partisan W. C. T U., therefore esolved, That since the National and Pennsylvania State W. C. T. U. are not now, and never have been, either sectarian or partisan bodies, we declare ourselves, as ever, loyal to both organizations And.

Whereas, Centre county gave a majority of 1935 for the Prohibition Amendment, thus virtually declaring in favor of Prohibition, we deplore (?) the late decision of the presiding judge and associates in granting licenses. We further desire to express our high esteem of Associate Judges McCarthy, Foreman, of Huntingdon county, and Judge Rhoads, of our own county. for their unwavering stand in the cause of God, Home and Humanity.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse our State officials in their aggressive warfare against the saloon and for the protection of the home.

Resolved, That realizing the responsibilities which will devolve upon American women in the future as citizens of this Republic we will prepare for an intelligent ballot by informing ourselves on the franchise.

Resolved, That as a County organization we express our thanks to the W. C. T. U. of Bellefonte for its hearty welcome, to the friends who have so kindly entertained us, to the ministers who honored us by their presence and sympathy, and to all who have contributed to our comfort, thus enlarging our opportunities for usefulness as a W. C. T. U:

R. V. PUGH,
Chairman of Com.

PLAN OF WORK.

1. We recommend an organization of Mothers' Meetings and Temperance Schools in every Union.

2. That we recommend the appointment of Superintendents of Franchise in all Unions throughout the county.

3. That Bands of Mercy be organized wherever possible.

4. That there is a pressing need of the study of Parliamentary rules by all members.

5. That we take a special interest in the foreign speaking people of this county.

6. That we urge a more scriptural observance of the Sabbath.

7. That we must earnestly urge evangelistic work, especially house to house visitation.

8. That we urge our local Superintendents of Sabbath school work to earnest efforts in drawing the young men of our Sabbath schools into temperance work

9. That the Union press the work of scientific temperance instruction through out the county.

M B. CROSS,
Chairman of Committee.

The Verdict of the Masses.

Williamsport's veteran editor, John F. Meginniss, but better know to the newspaporial world as "John of Lancaster," writes to the Lock Haven Express as follows :

"Just now the drift of Republican sentiment is setting in strongly in the direction of Hastings, and the fact can not be disguised but what he is the most popular man to-day with his party of all the candidates in the field. He is regarded as one of our ablest and most trusted representative men—the man who would concentrate and command the full strength of his party and go into the gubernatorial chair with an old-fashioned majority of seventy five or eighty thousand. Through his philanthropic efforts to alleviate the sufferings of his fellow men in the midst of the direst calamity that ever befel a portion of this commonwealth, he has endeared himself to the people, and they clamor for an opportunity to show their appreciation of his self-denying, humane and heroic services in the midst of gloom, sorrow and desolation, by voting for him as their choice for Governor. Such a demand—for it is little else—should be heeded. The voice of the people is all powerful, and no man, or set of men, can afford to disregard it with impunity."

A Severe Test.

When a manufacturer, from years of observation, has so completely satisfied himself of the universal satisfaction given by his products, that he feels fully warranted in selling them under a certificate of guarrantee, it is very natural to believe that such a producer has implicit confidence in the merits of his goods, and that, too, not without good reason. Such confidence is possessed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., in Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines, and hence his "Favorite Prescription" is sold by druggists, as no other medicine for similar purposes ever was, under a positive guarantee, that it will in every case give satisfaction, or money paid for it will be refunded: It cures all those distressing and delicate ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is not necessary to enumerate the long catalogue of derangements both functional and organic, of the female system which this marvelous remedy overcomes. They are, alas! but too well-known to most females who have attained womanhood, to need more than a hint to make them plain to their understanding.

Deride Not the Cane Knob.

From the Epoch.

For an hour, less one minnte, Bobby Tanbem sat sucking the knob of his cane. Suddenly, with a smack, he removed it from his mouth, and exclaimed to his companion :

"Say, Cholly, I've got an ideaw. Let us—aw—chawtah a tug-boat and tow in an iceberg. We would —aw—sell it to an ice company and stack up a nice little pile."

So confident are the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in their ability to cure Chronic Catarrh in the Head, no matter how bad or of how long standing, that they offer in good faith, the above reward, for a case which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. "Cold in the Head" is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal Headache is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, watering or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. Sold by druggists, at fifty cents. Manufactured by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

—Mr, Will Furst graduates this week from Princeton College. It is likely his father, Hon. A O Furst, will go to Princeton.

—The Philipsburg Ledger says that D. F. Fortney, Esq., made a most excellent Decoration Day address in that place on Friday last.

—Has the census taker been to see you yet? If he has not, be careful that he don't take your senses away by asking questions.

—James Swires, of Milesburg, has been granted a pension, and David Harshberger, of Hublersburg, has been granted an increase.

—That addition to Mrs. Blanchard's house on Linn street, not only adds more room to the house but gives it a much better appearance.

—Out of the 289 cencus enumerators in the sixth census district, of which Centre county forms a portion, 282 went to work on Monday morning.

—As the house being built by Irv. Hagerman, on East Linn street, nears completion it grows still handsomer, and by the time it is fully completed and the grounds all fixed up it will be one of the finest locations in Bellefonte.

—Complaints are being made that on Sundays boys and even young men, congregate on the Court House porch and there indulge in conduct unbecoming young gentlemen and wholly unfitted for the Sabbath day. In kindness we say, don't do it, boys; don't do it.

—That newly painted fence and stable on the property of E. C. Humes, on Howard street adds very much to the appearance and greatly enhances the value of the property. In this connection we might remark that there are many other properties in Bellefonte that would be the better for a good coat of paint.

HASTINGS AT ARDMORE.

A REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING HELD AT MASONIC HALL.

From the Norristown TIMES.

General D. H. Hastings received a big boom last night at a mass meeting in Ardmore. The local leaders had prepared a demonstration in his honor but the parade was knocked out by the rain. In company with Colonel William B. Mann, the handsome aspirant for Gubernatorial honors left Philadelphia early in the evening and was escorted from the station at Ardmore to the Masonic Hall.

Several hundred red fires were set off at the hall, which was handsomely decorated. David Morgan was chosen president; W H Welmer, president of the Bryn Mawr Club; W H Ramsey, H Le Grand Ensign, president of the Dirigo Club; Lewis D Spiece, W J Clark, Silas Jones, John Roberts, W McElhaney, Thomas H Barker and William McGeorge, Jr., were elected vice presidents, and Edward H Ball, Charles W Humphreys and Paul J Kugler, secretaries. President Morgan introduced Lewis D Spiece, who referred ironically to the accusation that Montgomery men were "kickers."

"We are willing," he said, "to support any candidate who may be chosen. We are in favor of Daniel Hastings. He is our jewel. He is the man of the people and a Republican like Abraham Lincoln or Thaddeus Stevens. If he is chosen our candidate he will get the largest majority of any Governor since the war."

When the cheers that greeted this announcement had subsided Judge William Hayden was presented, and his short address was a splendid recognition of the Republican party and its precepts. He concluded with a eulogy of General Hastings, who he declared possessed all the qualifications for a chief executive of Pennsylvania that could be desired.

"Gen. Hastings," he said, "is the choice of the people, and if we are kickers we are in a large majority. We want at the head of our ticket a man who will bring success to us, and that man is Gen. Hastings." Mr. Ensign predicted in the event of Gen. Hastings' nomination the return to Congress the Legislature and the State Senate good Republicans from the Seventh Congressional district. He pledged his own and the "Dirigo's" unqualified support to Hastings' candidacy and "Old Montgomery" for a big majority. "Give us Hastings," he concluded, "and we will give you victory."

The next speaker was Wm. B. Crawford and then Joseph Cuthbert made a ringing speech for the General and introduced some strikingly original poetry to the effect that opponents of his candidacy would eventually find themselves "in the soup."

Then General Hastings was brought forward and the crowd gave a grand "hurrah" Thanking them for their tributes and support, the general began a lengthy reference to the Republican party and its grand work in the building up the country, speaking especially of the perilous periods in which the Republicans "or common people" had risen to the occasion. His remarks were free from any reference to himself and the building shook when he finished.

Venerable Colonel Mann made the concluding address, He evoked cheers on incidental reference to the General's labors at Johnstown. General Hastings held an impromptu reception to the delegations from Conshohocken, Merion Square, Pencoyd and elsewhere, Previous to adjournment a resolution falvoring General Hastings for Governor was passed. It also provided for the appointment by the chairman of a committee of twenty-one citizens to work in his behalf.

Council Doings.

The first thing done was the reading of two communications from the Chief Burgess. One in relation to the painting of hitching posts so that they would be more plainly discernible at night. No action taken on this. The other regarding extra pay for police on show day. Laid on the table.

In the matter of opening of cross street from Bishop to High just east of the cemetery, the records show it to be a legally opened street and the borough is responsible for its condition.

Nuisance committee reported nuisance on McCafferty property abated.

Finance committee reported borough in debt to the treasurer in the sum of $5,470,88.

Mr. Tate was present to make complaint about the old standard nuisance, the sewer from Allegheny street to the gasworks.

Mr. James Harris requested council to extend 3 inch water pipe from High street down Water to his driveway. Referred to Water committee.

Borough solicitor, Clement Dale, Esq., rendered an opinion in the matter of laying pavements, that all pavements should be laid according to the natural grade of the street as it at present exists.

Mr. Shupp, at the cemetery, complained that his water tax was too high. Referred to finance committee.

Samuel Shaffer asked that council grant him the privilege to extend the water to his stables below the lime kilns, and asked what tax they would levy him. Held under consideration.

An ordinance repealing an ordinance passed years ago relative to taxing opera houses, was reported and passed.

Several minor matters relative to the laying of pavements and crossings were referred to Street committee, and after the approval of the regular quoto of bills Council adjourned.

Decoration at Milesburg.

Decoration day at Milesburg, says our correspondent, was appropriately observed. The preparations were elaborate and the exercises soleman, grand and imposing. All the arrangements were under the G. A. R. Post. The parade was formed at the G. A. R. hall and marched in the following order:

Milesburg band, Company B, of Bellefonte, another Band, the name of which we could not learn; Odd Fellows—in full regalia; Order of American machanics—in full regalia; Sunday school, G. A. R. and citizens. At the cemetery the the usual G. A. R. memorial services were gone through with. The decorating of the four soldiers graves was done by four young ladies dressed in white. Company B. fired the salute after which the oration was delivered by that rising young orator, W. I. Swope Esq., of Bellefonte. It is but due to Mr. Swope to say that the oration delivered was beyond criticism and spoken in a way that reached the hearts as well as the minds of his hearers. All in all the decoration day in Milesburg was a great success.

—The Hospital Commissioners, Hon J. J. Spearman, of Sharon; Hon. Jas. P Coburn, of Aaronsburg; Hon. D, Cameron, of Wellsboro; Hon. Samuel H. French, of Pittsburg; Hon. H. D. Tate, of Bedford; accompanied by state architect John Windrum, of Philadelphia, and Mr. J. Reid, of Curwensville, visited our town on Wednesday and Thursday, for the purpose of inspecting the Miners, State Hospital, which is almost completed. The distinguished visitors were enter tained at the Lloyd House. They were much pleased with the progress of the work on the Hospital, and pronounced the work well done, which is a compliment to the contractors Hoover Hughes & Co., and their efficient superintendent, Mr. Chas. Kemp.—Philipsburg Ledger

Cabbage, lettuce, onions and new potatoes just received at the Eureka grocery store to-day. They are all nice and fresh.

Decoration Day Echoes.

Our Unionville correspondent says: Decoration day at this place was very appropriately observed. The decorating of the graves was done at 3.30 o'clock p. m., and in the evening at 7:30 a meeting was held in the church at which the usual G. A. R. memorial ceremonies were gone through with after which W I. Swoope, Esq., of Bellefonte made a stirring address of twenty-five minutes duration. He was followed by the Rev. T. B. Cross of the Baptist church, in a twenty minute speech.

Advices from Curtin's say that the G. A.R., Sunday school and the home band marched from the church to the cemetery where the decoration ceremonies were gone through with and where W. I. Swoope, of this place, delivered the oration, which is spoken of as being very eloquent and effective.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses issued during the past week:

H A Sampsel, of Pleasant Gap, Pa., and Martha E Hunter, of Spring twp.

John Gabor, of Bellefonte Pa., and Susan Drobig, [both Hungarians], of same place.

Stephen Yoderick, of Potter township, and Mary Cessar, same place.

A J Hockman, of Hublersburg, and Alice Brumgard, of Zion.

Robert L Scott, of Philipsburg, and Myra S Hensbey, of same place.

Charles W Tripple, of Bellefonte, and Lida L Furey, of same place.

—Joseph M. Wilson, of Benner township, is so seriously ill that he cannot live but a few days—the Doctor states that he may die at any moment. He has been confined to the house during the most of the winter and spring. He was quite improved for a time. He came to town on Saturday a week; when he returned home he walked over his farm and was quite better, apparently, until Tuesday of last week when he took a relapse and has been growing worse. His face and eyes are afflicted with erysipelas

—It is very evident that there is one paper in Bellefonte that publishes news from the mind (?) of the editor. In an article on the High School commencement said paper stated that "Rev. W. A. Houck pronounced the benediction," when the fact in the matter is that Rev. M. O. Noll pronounced the benediction. Verily such information could not have been obtained even from a "house."

SHOULD BE ATTENDED TO.

The Desecration of the Graves in Union Cemetery should not be Allowed.

The custom of decorating the graves of the soldiers who fought and died to preserve the life of our nation is a duty which every American citizen owes to the departed heroes. While this is the fact, there are other duties we owe to those who are living as well as to those who are numbered among the silent dead.

We make this comparison for the reason that the gatherings assembled in the cemeteries on these occasions are made up of so many inconsiderate people, who act as though they felt that they were born to live forever; that the time has arrived when these gatherings shall be prohibited in the cemetery or such rules and discipline established as will protect the terraces and young grass from destruction, as well as the desecration of the graves of the near and dear ones beneath—who are as near and dear to those who live and ornament the grounds as the departed comrades are to the soldiers who live, if not more so.

It was painful in the extreme to observe the crowd of inconsiderate people who occupied the newly made grounds of Rev. James P. Hughes and Clement Dale, Esq. During the ceremonies of decoration in the Union cemetery they tramped down the terraces, destroyed the lawn grass beginning to grow and walked upon the mounds over the graves as though they were road crossings belonging to the public.

As Mr. Hughes remarked, "It is not only the destruction of what has been done to ornament the grounds, but it is the promiscuious tramping over the mounds on the graves that hurts ones feelings to the fullest extent, and goes to show how little respect a large portion of the living public have for the departed dead." These lots are as sacred to their owners as any part of their household, therefore thoughtless persons have no more right to trespass upon them—for they are trespassing—than they have to enter the private appartments of other peoples dwellings and deface the furniture. They are simply trespassers and should be dealt with accordingly. Because it is Decoration Day does not excuse them!

The time is at hand when the rights of lot owners in the Union cemetery should be respected. If the present managers are unable to furnish such protection as will prevent the wrongs referred to in the future, then it is their duty to take such steps as will bring about an organization of the lot owners, with ample authority to carry out the object so much desired. We trust the gentlemen in charge of the cemetery will act at once as there is no good reason why so worthy an object shall be delayed.

Signed With the Lebanons.

Ellenberger, the "boss" tosser for the State College Base ball nine has signed to play with the Lebanon team at a salary of not less than $125 per month. Mr. Ellenberger will graduate from the college during the coming commencement and will join the Lebanons on the first of July. This change will materially weaken the State College nine but will give the Lebanons a battery equal, if not superior, to any club in the Interstate league, and we now predict that at the close of the season they will come in with the best record.

School Board Organized.

On Monday evening the Bellefonte school board met and organized by electing D. F. Fortney, Esq., President, W. B. Rankin Secretary, and John P. Harris Treasurer. The second Tuesday night of each month was fixed as the regular meeting night. The Pennsylvania School Journal was ordered for the ensuing year after which the board adjourned to the ice cream parlors of Jos. Ceaders, where Mr. John P. Harris stood the treat on ice cream and cake.

—Mr. Cal. Green, the fashionable and accommodating barber, has opened up a shop in a corner of the building first floor in which this paper is printed. When you want a good shave or hair cut call on Cal.

THE SUMMER AT ATLANTIC CITY.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's Great Facilities.

The prospects for a brilliant summer season at Atlantic City were never so bright as at the present time. The extraordinary liberal patronage which it has gained during the winter and spring season, largely due to the facilities maintained by the Pennsylvania Railroad, is still manifesting itself in the well-filled hotels, which bid fair to hold their visitors well through the early summer season. The city by the sea is in better condition to entertain and amuse its friends than ever before. New hotels have been built, and older ones remodled and enlarged. The great ocean boulevard has been completed, so that Atlantic City now possesses the handsomest and most attractive ocean front of any seaside resort in America. All indications point to the largest summer season in the history of the place.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has kept well in line with the spirit of improvement which has pervaded the seashore. Its facilities for promptly and comfortably handling large numbers of people have been increased so as to supply any possible demand; the road-bed of its double line has been improved greatly; and the terminal facilities both at Philadelphia and Atlantic City have been enlarged and improved. The betterment of the tracks will enable the management to reduce the time between the Delaware river and the sea, and the summer schedule will present the quickest, best equipped, safest and most satisfactory service of trains for everybody ever enjoyed by the hosts of Atlantic City's summer patrons. The comprehensive system of excursion tickets leading from all points on the Pennsylvania System will be available as in the past years, at the exceptionally low rates that have heretofore prevailed. It would be well for our readers to remember that a summer trip that does not include Atlantic City lacks the spice that would make it memorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Maitland, of Williamsport, Pa., arrived in Bellefonte on Friday evening and will spend a few days at the homes of their respective parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Maitland and Mr. Daniel Garman. May their visit be a pleasant one.

Mr. John F. Potter who has been away from Bellefonte for several weeks on a tour through the western states returned on Tuesday. He visited the principal cities in all the States as far west as Minnesota and Nebraska and reports having a very pleasant time. He says the west is looking its best now.

TWO FIRES.

Grain and Coal House at Lemont and a Restaurant in Bellefonte.

About midnight on Tuesday night the large grain elevator and coal shed of Mr. John L. Thompson, at Lemont caught fire and was burned to the ground. This morning nothing remained but a large pile of coal which was still burning. It is not known how the fire originated. The loss will be $4,000 on the house, grain, implements, etc.; the insurance on same was $1,820. It is impossible at this writing to tell what the loss will be on the coal as it is still burning. On it there was no insurance.

IN BELLEFONTE.

At ten minutes before three o'clock Wednesday the fire alarm was sounded and at once there was a rush for the diamond where a small light appeared. The fire proved to be the restaurant and confectionery store of Mr. Potter, on northeast corner of diamond, which had caught fire in the second story. The upper part of the building was completely burned and the lower part ruined with water. The loss will be about $500. We have not heard whether there was any insurance on it or not. It is not known how it caught.

—Among the Half Mooners that transacted business in Bellefonte on Tuesday we noticed Mr. Matthias Rider, Isaac Beck, T Wilson Way, A J Thompson and Capt. John H Hunter.

THE PRIMARIES ON SATURDAY.

Outside of Allegheny Hastings Gets Almost Everything.

Republican primaries were held on Saturday in Allegheny, Huntingdon, Perry, Lebanon and Dauphin counties. The aggregate number of delegates in these five counties are twenty-five. In Allegheny Montooth gets the sixteen delegates on first choice; Hastings will get them on second. Hastings got the one in Perry, two in Lebanon, two in Dauphin and one, and perhaps two, in Huntingdon. Stone may get one in Huntingdon. Delamater gets two in Dauphin by an arrangement between the friends of both Delamater and Hastings.

With such promising returns Bellefonte has good reason to feel gratified as it now places Hastings on a good footing and gives him, more than ever, a very fair chance of making the nomination At least he will go into the Convention with a very strong following—enough to keep any candidate from being nominated on the first ballot.

We Have Them in Bellefonte.

That oft-quoted and much abused outspoken dispenser of the truth in its condemnation of the wicked and wrongdoers, the "Arizona Kicker," should come to Bellefonte and locate. We can safely promise it a wider field for its labors here in this supposed highly civilized town of the east than it now occupies in its far-off frontier location in the west. There are as many mean and unprincipled people in Bellefonte, outside of the newspaper offices and political headquarters, as can be found in any other town in these United States. A list of the same if set in solid nonpareil would fill columns of this paper. Why not induce some missionary to locate here and introduce a work of reformation.

The Howard Post Office.

The new post-office at Howard, Pa., as fixed up by the newly appointed P. M., Mr. Hiram T. Lucas, is said to be a model one and as nice and convenient as anyone in the county. The room is almost as large as the one in which the Bellefonte office is located. It is fitted up and arranged with the most modern and convenient letter boxes, with stamp window, general delivery, etc. Mr. Lucas certainly deserves credit for his thoughtfulness and appreciation of the public needs and welfare and for his willingness and readiness to properly fix up to meet the requirements, regardless of expense or trouble incurred. So much for another good Republican postmaster.

Gone to West Virginia.

Mr. Adolph Loeb and family have gone to Addison, Webster county, W.Va., Mr. Loeb has resided in Bellefonte for many years and his was long recognized as one of the largest dry goods and clothing houses in Centre county. His declining health, however, made it necessary for him to retire from active business and this spring he auctioneered off his immense stock of goods and closed up his business. He now goes to Addison for his health. We hope Mr. Loeb and family will conclude to return to Bellefonte in the near future, and in the meantime wish them pleasure in their location.

Woman's Exchange.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will hold a Woman's Exchange on Friday evening, June 6, in the stone building, northeast corner of the diamond. They will have lobster, crab, cake, ice cream, etc. This will be something new and different from the regulation bill-of-fare generally offered in Bellefonte and we have no doubt the wisdom of the ladies choice will be fully demonstrated in the large patronage they will receive.
